

'Moon Goddess' Aspirant Has Physical Attributes

Asks to Be On First U.S. Flight

By HILLY CRAWFORD

With no apparent intention, but with every physical attribute, of being a moon goddess, Sue Evans of the big brown eyes is dreaming practical day dreams of being the first woman to rocket around the moon.

Science fiction doesn't seem to have much to do with it and the fact that she plays a harp isn't what she considers a qualification for space travel. Sue just thinks here's a new frontier and "I may not be the first to do it . . . but some woman will be the first to go out into space."

SHE SAYS SHE'S willing to undergo the rigid training which has just been undergone by Airman Donald G. Farrell in completing a seven-day make believe trip to the moon.

Sue, whose married name is Mrs. Robert Stivers, is in Palm Springs visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cleek of 1540 Sagebrush, and made national news yesterday when it came over the wire services that she had written to James R. Killian, Jr., scientific advisor to President Eisenhower, making application to be on the first rocket trip around the moon.

THE 25-YEAR-OLD, little five-foot-one brunette added "I believe that with proper instruction I can do the job as well as any man."

When the word got out that Sue wanted to go to the moon and back, queries poured in from wire services, metropolitan newspapers and popular television programs and I went out to talk with her and see if she really meant it.

I STILL DON'T know, but think she might stop over in Hollywood and find a warm welcome. She's a professional singer and harp player and has a contract pending with Dot Records. She's the wife of a New Yorker who does package shows for television and they have been married five years.

She's a graduate of Stanford University, where she majored in Humanities, and she has read science fiction but says she is really more interested in philosophy and philosophers like Socrates and Plato.

HER FAVORITE hobbies are swimming and music and about two years ago she took five hours

POISED FOR FLIGHT, Sue Evans poses in the sunlight, poolside at the Sagebrush Road home of her parents, the Leonard Cleeks, wondering if maybe she will be the first woman to make a rocket trip to the moon. of flying instruction but never soloed.

Asked if she didn't want to have a family and a normal home life, she said that she didn't consider that she was taking a risk as she didn't think human beings would be sent up in rockets until it was completely safe.

"I think it will be very exciting and certainly a wonderful experience," she said, her brown eyes sparkling.

"COLUMBUS HAD to cross an ocean to discover America and he didn't know whether he'd drop off (the edge of the world) into outer space or not." She added rather wistfully, "I look at the moon and the stars and wonder what it would be like."

Looking like a little girl, with her shapely tanned legs accented by a brief sunsuit of pale blue, Sue opined "The more we can put a positive thought behind all the new things the better it will be . . . rather than thinking we got to beat this one and we got to beat that one."

The would-be space explorer has been here a month visiting with her parents and expects to leave within a few days to rejoin her husband in New York. She rather thinks he will be a little amazed at all the publicity.

WAL Rejects NMB Proposal For Compromise

Western Airlines Tuesday night rejected a five-point compromise proposal of the National Mediation Board for heading off a strike of members of the Air Line Pilots Assn.

In rejecting the compromise, already accepted by the pilots, the company said it did not offer "fair nor serious basis for settlement of this dispute."

ONE OF THE points of the NMB's proposal was for the pilots to accept the last wage offer made by Western. The proposed pay increase was lower than the association asked for.

However, WAL said it would not accept the point because the pay offer had been made as "part and parcel of a complete contract proposal." Company spokesmen also objected to a proposal which would have submitted 70 or 80 items to arbitration.

Special Census to Start Today; 20 on Job in City

A special census of Palm Springs population was launched today by a team of 20 United States Census Bureau enumerators.

Designed to update Village population figures, this latest nose count is expected to run for the next two weeks, blanketing the entire city.

CITY OFFICIALS explained that an up-to-date census count will bring increased revenues in the form of state gasoline tax and motor vehicle license fee allocations and aid in future city planning.

Villagers were asked to cooperate in the census by providing ready and correct answers to questions asked by enumerators. The census began this afternoon, following a morning training session for the special enumeration team.

ENUMERATORS, identified by red, white and blue cards, will conduct a door-to-door canvass, questioning all persons now living in Palm Springs who "have no usual place of residence elsewhere," said Vernon L. Miller, special census supervisor.

Miller pointed out that all census information is confidential. Questions asked will deal with names of persons in each dwelling, relation of each to the head of the household, sex, race and age at last birthday.

DICK DELONG, city administrative assistant, explained that the new special census will determine the current population. The figures are necessary for city planning and upgrading Village participation in the division of state funds from gasoline and license tax fees.

The census will include as residents of Palm Springs all persons who may have residences elsewhere, but who are, at present, living or working here and return to their homes outside the city "on weekends or less frequently," Miller said.

Churchill Illness Is Chronic One

NICE, FRANCE — A physician reported Winston Churchill was suffering from a "chronic bronchial condition" today. But the 83-year-old statesman was well enough to smoke two of his beloved cigars.

"The only reason for concern is his age," said Dr. David Roberts, the local physician who treated Churchill before his own doctor arrived from London this afternoon.

A FORMAL MEDICAL bulletin was expected later based on the examination by Lord Moran, one of Queen Elizabeth's physicians who flew here specially to treat the ailing Churchill.

In the interim, Roberts revealed to newsmen that the previously reported "indisposition" which sent Churchill to bed Tuesday was in fact a "chronic" condition.

HE ADDED THAT Churchill nevertheless had been well enough to smoke a cigar after breakfast and another after lunch.

It was a characteristic gesture by the grand old man—perhaps a sign to his well-wishers not to worry about him.

Churchill has been holidaying at the Riviera villa of his publisher, Emery Reeves, at nearby Roquebrune - Cap Martin, since Jan. 15.

OFFICIAL SOURCES reported the 83-year-old Churchill "passed a good night" at his French Riviera villa and that his condition was unchanged. But his illness was considered so serious that the former prime minister's wartime doctor was rushed to his bedside.

A NARROW ESCAPE was experienced yesterday by visitors to Palm Springs. Mrs. Carol Raven, and her two daughters, Cindy, 3, and Lynn, 5 (holding their pillows) who stand near the scene of an accident which threw Mrs. Raven out of the front door and under

Ike Gives Ultimatum To Congress

Foreign Aid Plan Or Higher Taxes, Heavier Draft Call

THOMASVILLE, Ga. — President Eisenhower today posed the prospect of higher taxes and heavier draft calls unless Congress approves his foreign aid program.

The chief executive, from his vacation headquarters here, sent a special message to Congress, asking speedy action by the House and Senate "for the safety of our families."

THE PRESIDENT in his budget for fiscal 1959 requested nearly four billion dollars for his mutual security program.

He warned the Congress today in a sharply worded message that failure to enact this program might lead to a highly difficult situation with the Soviet Union.

Without the foreign aid program the President said there might be "a severe dislocation and basic impairment of Free World power."

EISENHOWER TOLD Congress "it is my duty to make clear my profound conviction that the vigorous advancement of this program is our only logical course."

Without the aid program, the President said there would be "a certain crumbling . . . under Sino-Soviet pressures" of the strategic position of the U. S.

Eisenhower also foresaw these other possibilities:

"A MASSIVE increase in our own defense budget, in amounts far exceeding mutual security appropriations, necessitating increases in taxes.

"A heavy increase in inductions of American youth into our own armed forces.

He said the value of the mutual security program to the national safety is "many times greater than its cost."

BLOOD DONORS CONTRIBUTE 38 PINTS OF BLOOD

Palm Springs blood donors were today congratulated by Desert Hospital officials for a turnout that netted 38 pints of blood for the Riverside - San Bernardino two-county blood bank.

Hospital Director Robert Henwood said that 45 Villagers were on hand to donate blood when the mobile bank rolled into Palm Springs Monday. Seven were rejected for medical reasons, he said.

Village Voters Turn Down Redistricting, 9-Man Council

Forty per cent of Palm Springs registered voters turned out yesterday to defeat the proposed redistricting issue which would have increased the local City Council from seven members to 9.

Voting started out light, but increased in volume near poll closing time, with 2,017 out of the possible 4,963 voters casting ballots.

IN THE VOTE, which by precinct gave a good example of how the people in Palm Springs thought, precincts number 3 (Health Center), 4 (Scout House) and 6 (Cielo Vista), cast ballots in favor of the issue, while precincts 1 (Katherine Finch), 2 (Frances Stevens), and 5 (Cahuilla) cast heavy ballots against the issue.

This is the second time in three years that a redistricting issue has been presented to the local voters, having carried by a majority in 1955, but lost because it did not get the necessary two-thirds the vote in 1955 was 785

Precinct	Yes	No	Tot.

No. 2	58	261	319
No. 3	266	152	418

to 602. The first election was called by the City Council only after it was ordered to do so by the California Supreme Court. Previously, the council had voted 5-2 rejecting a citizens initiative petition requesting the initial election.

THE FAILURE OF the redistricting issue now strikes seven men from the councilmanic race. Men who filed to run in councilmanic districts 8 and 9 will now have their candidacies declared void because they do not live within the district in which they filed.

Those who will not be able to run are Morton Weissman, Harry Mohr, Alexander Jablow and Ray Corliss in District 9; and Bill Veith and Dr. Robert Backstrom in District 8.

HIRAM GORDON, who filed his candidacy in both Districts 2 and 6, will now run in District 2 against incumbent Jerry Nathanson and candidates Frank M. Bogert, Lawrence Chatman, W. Mack Davis, Bud Southern and Joe Palozzi.

George Beebe, Jr., in District 6 became the only candidate to fill the vacancy which will be created by Frank Miller's decision not to seek re-election. Beebe had Hiram Gordon as an adversary if redistricting had passed yesterday.

Light Drizzle Is Only Sign Of Storm Here

Beach, Mountain Area to Bear Brunt of Blast

Southern California's worst storm in the past five years dumped more than four inches of wind-driven rain on many parts of the Los Angeles area, flooded streets, blocked highways with giant rockslides and forced evacuation today of many families in low-lying areas.

Palm Springs escaped the brunt of the storm, experiencing only a light drizzle this morning.

HARDEST HIT were the low-level areas of West Los Angeles, the beach cities and San Fernando Valley. More than 60 schools were closed by the heavy downpour that began shortly after midnight.

Shortly after 11 a.m., the weatherman said, "The worst is over." He forecast additional rain for this afternoon and tonight, but only "light to moderate" showers. He said clearing would follow Thursday.

MOST OF THE families evacuated were taken in high-wheeled trucks from some homes in the Lavandale, Hawthorne and Manhattan Beach areas. There were no reports of casualties from the storm.

Los Angeles Red Cross disaster forces were ordered into the area to aid county lifeguards and deputy sheriffs in rescuing families, mostly women and children, from their homes.

THE WATER WAS waist deep in many outlying intersections to the southwest and in the San Fernando Valley to the north.

The storm was accompanied by gusty winds that whipped down trees and power lines and caused landslides on cliffside beach roads and in the mountain areas.

Gale warnings were hoisted from Point Conception to Newport Harbor for winds up to 45 miles an hour. Small craft warnings were up southward to the Mexico border for lesser winds.

Winter Clings Stubbornly to Snowbound East

By UNITED PRESS Winter's prolonged cold and snow clung stubbornly to the East today, clogging river, rail and road transportation. Helicopters flew errands of mercy to the sick and the snowbound.

There was one ray of hope, however, in the 13-day cold wave—a warming trend drifted from the plains into the Midwest and was pushing its way eastward.

But the moderating temperatures were not enough to lift the stinging cold from the heat-starved Southeast or break jams of ice and snow in the northeastern and midwestern blizzard belts. A new storm dumped 21 inches of snow on South Bend, Ind.

Telephone Hearings Resume Here, Company Testifies

Executives of the California Water and Telephone Company are in Palm Springs today to appear before the Public Utilities Commission, which is conducting a three-day hearing on telephone service in Palm Springs, at the city hall.

The company will be represented by its attorney, Claude Rosenberg of San Francisco, and will present testimony concerning the speed of service by the company during the past two years.

TESTIMONY INCLUDES a reflection of major improvements to the local service and cites a report on running more than 26,834 trench feet of underground conduit; 65,400 feet of rural distribution wire; 64,600 of bare aerial wire and 251,328 of underground and aerial cable.

Sub-standard station installations totaling 535 were corrected and brought up to specifications. A new central office building of 2,000 square feet was constructed at Cathedral City; and a two-story addition, containing 3,150 square feet was made to the Palm Springs main central office building.

EQUIPMENT ADDITIONS included a new central office in

Weather

Desert area forecast: Mostly cloudy with rain north portion and showers south portion today, locally heavy to moderate amounts. Occasional showers tonight and Thursday morning. Gusts 25-40 miles an hour at times. Cooler today. Highs today 55-65 upper valleys, 65-75 lower valleys.

Yesterday's high was 80; low, 45.

Metal Plant Explosion, Fire Kills 5 Workmen

CHICAGO — An explosion and fire ripped the casting department at the huge Reynolds Metal Co. plant today, killing at least five workmen.

At least 18 persons were injured in the early morning blast, but only three of them required hospitalization. The others were treated for cuts and burns at the scene.

A company spokesman estimated damage in the blast and fire at one million dollars.

He said a defective melting furnace touched off the explosion. The firm is engaged in defense work and security restrictions were imposed on the area.

United Fund Hits Halfway Mark

Palm Springs United Fund officials reported that their first annual Village drive has passed the half way mark of its $102,500 goal. Fred Ingram, a fund director, said the more than $50,000 collected to date represents "the most money raised for a single purpose in the history of Palm Springs."

UNITED FUND directors attributed the increase in contributions to a "speed-up" drive launched when the campaign appeared to be stalled at the starting line.

It was pointed out by the United Fund board that funds have been raised solely by volunteer workers. No paid, outside solicitors have been employed.

Directors praised local merchants, home owners and Village visitors for the generous donations, but urged that residents continue their response to avoid any slow-up in the drive.

PERSONS WHO have not already donated are asked to send or bring their contributions to the United Fund office at the Desert Inn Garage.

United Fund is an organization designed to feed supporting funds to all local and most national charitable agencies operating or represented here.

Communist China, North Korea Announce Withdrawal of Troops

TOKYO — Communist China and North Korea announced today the withdrawal from North Korea of the Red Chinese "volunteer" troops whose entry into the Korean conflict turned a United Nations victory into a stalemate.

But American officials in Washington and South Korean officials in Seoul called it merely a propaganda stunt aimed at getting Allied troops — mostly American — out of the Republic of Korea. They called it belated acceptance of a 7-year-old U.N. demand.

VISITING CHINESE Communist Premier Chou En-lai and North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung issued a joint statement in Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, saying the 300,000 to 350,000 Chinese troops would be withdrawn by the end of 1958.

They suggested a U. N. withdrawal as "proof" of Western sincerity in settling the question of a divided Korea.

THEIR WITHDRAWAL would cut the North Korean armed forces by half. American officials noted that a U. N. resolution of 1951 branded the Red Chinese government an aggressor and called upon it then to withdraw its so-called volunteers.

U. S. State Department officials declined even to consider the possibility of withdrawing the U. N. forces from South Korea. They are composed principally of two American divisions, a Turkish brigade and 650,000 South Korean troops.

On His Own Case LEWISTON, Me. — (UP) — Patrolman Gerald R. Gilbert was promoted to detective and immediately assigned to a stolen car case. He sought his missing 1950 sedan.

completion in 90 days, has reached the half-way mark. Funds to help furnish the new building will be sought with presentation of the Ballet Concerto benefit performance at the Chi Chi Starlite Room March 6. Proceeds will be shared with the Desert Art Center. (Desert Sun Photo)

Tickets Go on Sale Today For 'Ballet Concerto' Here

Tickets went on sale today for the benefit Palm Springs performance of "Ballet Concerto."

Produced by Michael Panaiouff's Virtuoso Company, the ballet goes on stage at the Chi Chi Starlite Room Thursday, March 6, for the benefit of the Desert Museum and Desert Art Center.

Opening of ticket sales was announced today by Ernest Alschuler, Desert Museum fund chairman, and Oscar Stern, Art Center president.

THE BALLET is being presented as a benefit performance by Irwin Schuman, Chi Chi operator. Featuring 10 prominent ballerinas and a corps de ballet of ten skilled dancers, "Ballet Concerto" won high acclaim by Southland reviewers as a "nucleus for a Los Angeles ballet company."

It was viewed as the first serious Southern California attempt to compete with established companies of the East.

IN ANNOUNCING the ballet program, Alschuler noted that the new Desert Museum building is

Duke Ellington Attracts Old, New Fans Here

Edward Kennedy Ellington, alias "the Duke," tonight swings into his sixth bombastic jazz performance in a new concert now rocking through a 10-day engagement at the Chi Chi Starlite Room.

Presented by the jazz king himself and 15 Ellington artists, the new Duke Ellington show brings to the Village a parade of contemporary jazz classics featuring the cream of more than two decades of music making.

Oldtime Ellington followers and newcomers to the Ellington fold are packing the Chi Chi for the kind of music that has rocked audiences from the White House to the palace of the Marhabah of Cooch Behar.

On the Starlite Stage, the Duke is winging through such familiar Ellington standards as "Take the A Train," "Mood Indigo," "Solitude," and dishing up a new touch in progressive jazz for the enlightenment of jazz aficionados.

With the appearance of the Ellington Orchestra, the Chi Chi is inaugurating a new policy, eliminating the regular cover charge on week nights. The Chi Chi cover charge will be in effect only on Saturdays.

Smoking in Bed Can Be Painful

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

I don't know yet whether the voters said "No." Or if they came out with an emphatic "No!"

That's because, in the interests of harmony in the composing room and to preserve the entire cordial which must exist to get out a good newspaper, I always hunt and peck one of these things 36 hours, and up, ahead of date of publication.

Sort of frustrating, sometimes.

HAVE ALWAYS wondered about this ward, pardon me, district system, anyway.

Now that the election is over I stick my neck out and put my foot on it.

That's pure allegory. I'm not that agile.

Councilmen should represent the entire city, not just one district. Then when four seats, let's say, are at stake and a flock of eager candidates want them, let the entire city vote on the list and the top four move in.

It just occurred to me that the above statement, now that the election is over, is like opening the stable door after the horse is already inside.

THIS RECENT plethora of prizes awarded sundry newspapers by the California Newspaper Publishers Association and the resultant bragging by the winners, always reminds me of an incident of my youth, so many years ago.

I had just been pulled in off the street and given a desk job. I was to be entrusted with the make-up (appearance) of the newspaper.

WITH THE CUSTOMARY brass ignorance of youth, I remarked with exuberance: "Hot damn! I'll make those so-and-so down the street" (the opposition newspaper) sit up and take notice!"

The managing editor, whose grouchy exterior hid a heart of gold the gave me the job, didn't he? tapped me on the shoulder. "Listen, you conceited squirt, (a polite arrangement of his actual words) get out a newspaper to please the public, not other editors."

HAL GARROTT of Sky Ridge Trailer Park, Cathedral City, told me a story last week of a long-tailed lizard that disrupted a shuffleboard game by sweeping a player's disc into the penalty box with his caudal appendage. I quoted him.

Came a call. "That wasn't a lizard, not with that tail. Must have been a chuckawalla."

Looked up Chuckawalla in the dictionary. It wasn't there.

KNOWING WHERE to go in situations like this, I called Dr. C. E. Smith, Desert Museum director.

"You're both wrong," Doc said. "With a tail like that, it was probably a desert iguana."

Well, anyway, lizard, chuckawalla or iguana, they still haven't settled the argument who gets the points the reptile scored. I hope it is a reptile. I'm not up to another argument.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

The courtyard is sunny this morning. The coffee is black and hot and the news is interesting. Mexico City police have put the arm on the famous Dolores Esteves.

Dolores ran a unique delivery system. Each day her servants ran box lunches to a select clientele — Dolores tucked a little package of marijuana underneath the ham sandwiches.

What I like best about it is Dolores' nickname: "Flatnose Lola."

BUS DRIVERS must take more baths says the Transit Authority of the Federal District.

"Police will see that drivers go about very clean." Unhappy drivers will go into the slammer alongside Flatnose Lola.

BAD NEWS for Mike Todd: "Around the World in Eighty Days" cannot play Mexico. Mexican movie prices are Government-controlled — no price higher than four pesos. Equal to 32 cents U. S. Exhibitors say they cannot buy at this price nor put in wide screen.

The line-up at movie houses is seldom less than a block long. By Government decree, the manager must also provide at least three hours of movies at each show. TV is still too expensive to make any competition here. TV is for the rich.

THERE ARE EIGHT classes of drunk charges on the police blotter. Very delicate distinctions: Drunk and insulting the police; drunk and fighting the police; drunk and causing a scandal; a very funny charge which I cannot print.

There is no charge of just plain drunk. This would be considered an invasion of civil rights.

In the villages, Sunday is the big day. The Indians load up on pulque, an acquired taste that is too much for us gringos. They get staggering on it.

THREE BANK robbers have been picked up: "Benito, King of Amber," "Manuel, the Fish" and "Death was seconds away."

EARL WILSON:

Smooched By American Gals

NEW YORK—I never saw so many dames kissing a guy as moved in on Sir Laurence Olivier Thursday a.m. at the Pierre after he'd opened in "The Entertainer." First Night gals twittered and gushed over "Larry" at a party given by Producer David Merrick. To a few who wrapped arms around him or smooched his cheek, Larry said, "I'm staying at the Algonquin."

Fredric March admired him from a sideline, especially his rendition of a Milton Berle-type comic. "He's the greatest thing," said Mr. March, "since local anesthetics."

Lauren Bacall's around with Agent Irving Lazar. Dinah Shore blurted to Bacall and Frank Sinatra at the Colony the other night, "Are you two going to get married?" Both gave their heads a negative shake. Lauren says she wants to get married... but not just for laughs.

Arthur Godfrey'll try to hypo, his morning TV show ratings with give-aways of iceboxes, stoves, etc.—a step he never thought would be necessary... Sally Ann Howes went to see a medic and the "My Fair Lady" backstage gossips promptly reported she was expecting. "Not yet," says she.

Kim Novak's shapely double, Scott Weldon, was in an elevator going up to Columbia Pictures. A man in the elevator said, "Do you know Otto Preminger?" "No."

"Well, you should..." "What does he do?" "He likes pretty girls and can do a lot for them..." "I haven't got time. G'bye, this is my floor..." Just then a Columbia Pictures executive was passing, called in to the elevator, "Hello, Mr. Preminger."

The gal who's briefly nude in "The Entertainer," Jeri Archer, from Summit, N.J., is the first naked artist on the B'way stage in years. And she wears a G-string. Just her bosom is shown—for about 30 seconds—and then the curtain's around her. Miss Archer, who wears a size 39, DD-cup, told me the stage hands get to see a lot more of her than the public out front. "They're going to build a special curtain around me for backstage, so the stagehands will get their work."

"When the big earthquake came," said the desk clerk, "it flopped all the fish out of the fountain. All the guests ran out of their rooms into the courtyard."

"I told them: 'Don't just stand there. Help me get the fish back in the fountain!' It was very funny — all the guests on their knees in the courtyard trying to pick up the slippery fish."

I HAVE A PHONE call from the States. Will I please buy 80 straw sombreros for a party. Yesterday I went down to the market and got a price on straw hats. Five pesos.

"How much if I buy 80 hats?" "In that case they will be 10 pesos each, Senior."

"That is too much. I should get a discount. Why do you raise the price?"

"For one hat, 5 pesos, Senior. But 80 hats! That is so much work!"

NEW YORK—Sarah Churchill, actress and daughter of Sir Winston Churchill, on being informed by airport employees that she had just missed a trans-Atlantic flight that was to carry her to a reunion with her father:

"If you can't do me the courtesy of boarding me, then do the obvious. Tell me I can't go."

CHICAGO — Diver Charles Rinck, 36, on his narrow escape 84 feet below street level in a water tunnel, where his air supply was blocked:

"Death was seconds away."

SOPHIA LOREN took a few days off from "Black Orchids" because she suffered a non-phlogenic lip-burn getting her sore throat swabbed with silver nitrate... Lily Pons will look after Ginny Simms' sons, David and Conrad, while Miss Simms slams out for a singing stretch in the saloons cross-country.

Jerome Courtland's Christmas tree is still up. His son won't let him take it down... Shirley MacLaine's husband is producing movies in Japan so Shirley enrolled at UCLA to learn Japanese... Sign in Ernest Borgnine's dressing room on the "Badlanders" set at M-G-M: "Don't Do Anything Else Today. You've Made Enough Mistakes Already."

JEFF HUNTER dropped out of Estelle Harman's dramatic coaching classes because they wouldn't let him bring his wife along... Doris Day is discussing doing a movie about Revolutionary War heroine Molly Pitcher for producer Randolph Livingston.

Audie Murphy pushed the start of his western, "The Way Back," WAY BACK—until they shape the script more to his liking... Wisdom from Washington: "Using atomic energy only for the Ex-Ambassador Wm. O'Dwyer excused himself from a party in Mexico City to entertain a "distinguished foreign visitor." The d.f.v. was Eddie Roberts, part owner of N.Y.'s Stage Delicatessen... Charles Laughton told me Alec Guinness will positively get the Oscar for "Bridge on the River Kwai." I'd suggested maybe Laughton'd get it. "I shan't—I've had it once—I've become a hoary old American institution" Laughton snorted. "Alec should get it on past performances. He's never had an acknowledgment of his work. Sentiment inevitably enters into it. He'll get it for 'Kwai' and also for 'The Lavender Hill Mob' and 'Man in a White Suit.'"

Laughton admitted, though, that he's "hotter than a firecracker" himself due to "Witness for the Prosecution."

J. Paul Getty, the "publicity-hater," is giving time plenty of time for a story and posing for pix... Hazel Scott, now a Parisian, is making a movie with Jean Gabin and fuming because the rights seem to be held up preventing her from doing "Anna Lucasta"... Ingrid Bergman wrote friends here, "Don't worry about me," and said she'd be in England throughout this year—despite reports of a Mexican visit.

Direct quote from Grace Kelly: "I have given up any thought of making films. It would be most difficult to live two such absorbing types of life at the same time. I have chosen to be a wife and mother, and I have my responsibilities in the Principality of Monaco."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: An unhappy husband says women are buying sack dresses and playing the game, "What's My Shape?"

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Some scientists have quit wondering how old the earth is, and have begun wondering how much older it's gonna get.

Iggie Wolfington of "Music Man" was asked if that's his real name. "Do you think," he snapped, "anybody'd pick that as a stage name on purpose"...

That's earl, brother.

The Rich Get Richer

Hollywood—Maria Schell, fabulous as Grushenka in "The Brothers Karamazov," will next co-star with Charlton Heston in "Ben-Hur"... Warner Bros. are romancing Rock Hudson to star in "The Miracle" in their new wide-screen process, Cinemiracle.

The Rich Get Richer: Buddy Fogelson, Greer Garson's husband and a rabid Republican, has a huge hunk of cash invested in rabid Democrat Dore Schary's Broadway hit, "Sunrise at Campobello."

LERNER & LOEWE are luring Leslie Caron to play Ingrid Bergman's old role in their musical remake of "Saratoga Trunk"... Marlon Brando is buzzing Georgia Moll, Audie Murphy's leading lady in "The Quiet American," to ride sidesaddle through Brando's own Western, "Ride, Comancheros."

Claudette Colbert and Charles Boyer will do Paul Gregory's stage play, "Marriage-Go-Round," in San Francisco. But they'll bypass their home town, Hollywood—because like most movie actors, they don't like working onstage before other professionals... Noel Coward writes from San Francisco that he opened "Present Laughter" on Broadway without a tryout tour because "I wanted it nice and smooth for SF!"

PLAYHOUSE 90 paid Elick Moll only $20,000 for his strictly sensational "Sizeman and Son" and "Gentleman from Seventh Avenue" scripts, telecasts of which reaped a rich harvest in viewer AND critical acclaim for CBS-TV and the series. But now that Putnam will publish Moll's new novel, "Sizeman and Son" (which incorporates both tele-script ideas) and Readers Digest has chosen the book for one of its summer offerings — plus which "Sizeman" has been selected as the June Book-of-the-Month—it all adds up from where I sit to a possible $150,000 Jackpot for Moll.

In addition to all this, there's always the possibility of producing a Broadway play from the same material, which means Moll won't have to write another tele-script unless he prefers doing that to clipping residual-royalty coupons for many a moon to come.

Mutter from Milton Berle: "There are two kinds of egotists—those who admit it and the rest of us."

Determination of 'Disabled' President Must Be Accomplished

American history records that 170 years ago at the meeting of the Continental Congress to draft the Constitution of the United States, a clause was included in the first writing stating that "Should the President become disabled, the Vice President shall take over his duties as Acting President."

This clause won the approval of the convention until the question arose as to how should it be determined that the President was unable to fulfil duties of the office.

No one could solve that most delicate and exacting problem then, nor has anyone proposed a satisfactory and acceptable solution in all the years which followed, and during which at least four Presidents were admittedly considered "disabled" during their term of office.

It is to the distinct credit of President Eisenhower that while still in office and able to carry on his duties despite several illnesses, that he has brought forward this important question anew and urged that a definite decision be made and adopted.

As a result an effort has been started in Congress to form a bipartisan group to explore the intricate facets of the problem and attempt to present a satisfactory and mutually agreeable solution to the members for final approval.

There are a number of reasons to hope that the present session may determine and adopt a definite procedure for making the Vice President officially an Acting President in the event that the President is "disabled" even though the greatest men in our history were unable to do so previously.

Heretofore there was no "in between." Although a President was completely "incapacitated," he was still President until his actual death installed the Vice President.

Legally there is still the question of whether an act of Congress will be sufficient, or whether the terms arrived at will be drafted in the form of a Constitutional amendment and submitted for a vote of the people. But once agreed upon and prepared, there is little doubt of adoption.

Under present day world conditions catastrophe could quickly befall the entire nation should it chance to have a disabled President with no provision for an immediate substitution of an Acting President to take over the reigns of government.

The possibility of a "leaderless" nation should be removed, and at once.

Can Congress Curb the Court?

WASHINGTON, D.C.—"A great cannon, loaded to the lips," is somebody's description of Daniel Webster in 1852 at his last momentous appearance in the U.S. Senate. Tone the description down a little, but not much, and you could use it to identify Senator William Jenner (R., Ind.) who is in his last session and primed for a farewell salvo.

Jenner, like Webster, has suffered the slings and arrows of irrational radicalism, but he is a better man than his detractors, and they know it. And Jenner, like Webster, has a set of convictions that are married to the Constitution and are impervious to the gaudy seductions of unlicensed liberalism.

A GUN IN JENNER'S valedictorian salute is his bill (S. 2646) which would limit the Supreme Court's jurisdiction in considering certain appeals. Hearings have just begun, but the ideological lines were drawn behind closed doors in scrimmages within the Senate Judiciary committee.

It is the familiar battle, as old as the American republic, between fundamentalists who believe that our freedoms are best protected by strict adherence to the Constitution and loose constructionists who believe in bending the Law to fit the continuing crisis of emergency-always. Personalities apart for the moment, this is how the argument on S. 2646 is shaping.

FUNDAMENTALIST: The Founding Fathers devised their incomparable system of checks-and-balances to make certain—among other things—that none of the three branches of government should ever become too powerful.

Thus the Congress, the Presidency and the Supreme Court—while all powerful in unison—cannot separately infringe upon one another's duties and cannot threaten the people's numerous freedoms. In Article III, Section 2, there is a check by Congress upon the power of the Supreme Court. It reads:

"... the Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction both as to law and fact, with such exceptions and under such regulations as the Congress shall make."

THIS CLAUSE, according to Constitutional fundamentalism, clearly means that Congress has the right and duty to check the Supreme Court from assuming run-away authority. Congress is under solemn instruction to check the Court's abuses by naming "exceptions" and "regulations" in the Court's right of hearing appeals from rulings of lower courts or from rulings of Congress.

Loose Constructionism: The Jenner bill (S. 2646) is an attempt to discipline the Supreme Court for decisions which certain members of Congress do not like. This would be an arbitrary and capricious act by Congress. The Law is kept alive and up-to-date by these judicial decisions.

THE FUNDAMENTALISTS do not deny the first part of this charge. Senator Jenner and his conservative colleagues fully admit that they do not like many Supreme Court decisions. They contend that, far from being arbitrary and capricious, they are following the instructions in the Constitution by attaching "exceptions" and "regulations" to the Court's appellate jurisdiction.

The following are the five fields in which the Jenner bill would prevent the Court from upsetting decisions reached in lower courts and in Congress. Under S. 2646 the Supreme Court could not overrule:

1. ACTION AGAINST a witness for contempt of Congress.
2. Action of the Federal Government in firing a security risk, as long as it was done under an act of Congress.

3. Legislation in any State for the control of subversive activities within the State.

4. Action of any school or college to control subversive activities within its teaching body.

5. Regulation by any State concerning admission of persons to practice law within the State.

OBVIOUSLY, FROM this list, backers of the Jenner bill believe that the Supreme Court has abused its powers in recent decisions concerning: contempt of Congress, Federal internal security firings, State anti-subversion laws, college anti-subversive rules for faculty members, State laws to prevent Communists and their supporters from practicing in the lower courts.

Does Congress have this right? The Fundamentalist case, I am told, rests upon the Reconstruction Era decision in which a Mississippi newspaper editor named McCordie was arrested for some alleged infringement of Reconstruction Law. McCordie appealed to the Supreme Court.

CONGRESS, FEARFUL of testing the dubious laws of that shameful era, quickly enacted a statute which withdrew (as the Jenner bill would do) the Supreme Court's appellate jurisdiction in the pertinent field of law. The case against McCordie was automatically dismissed. Chief Justice Chase acknowledged the right of Congress to act as it did. He declared:

"Without jurisdiction the Court cannot proceed at all in any case... the only function remaining to the Court is that of announcing the fact and dismissing the cause."

Thus if Congress should pass the Jenner bill, the Supreme Court would be bound by precedent to treat it as law of the land.—Homes Alexander....

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY My neighbor has six kids and she's still going strong. They say that no two of her kids have the same father and my kids, who are 11 and 13 are asking me questions. She is not a welfare case, either, and nobody can figure out how she does it because her husband has been laying around with a bad back for years. The mailman says she gets no bills so it means everything is for cash. They got good clothes, good furniture and two TVs. Will you please tell me how she does it? NOT NOSY.

DEAR NOT: For a woman who is not NOSY, you are very NEWSY. I don't know how she does it, but she doesn't!

DEAR ABBY My wife and I had her brother his wife and their children for Sunday dinner. My wife was trying to set 12 plates around a table that seats 8. I suggested that she put the four younger children in the kitchen, but she said it would be bad manners to separate the parents from the children. I have seen it done before and it worked out much better because everyone was comfortable and nobody got mad. These kids are all between 10 and 13 and nobody has to help them eat. As it was, everyone was crowded and nobody enjoyed the meal. Please print this. My wife has to see black on white to believe anything.

DANNY DEAR DANNY I agree with you. If you don't want to put the children in the kitchen, you can set up a card table in the dining room or living room. Everyone does it!

DEAR ABBY Someone gave my 8-year-old son a guinea-pig. We keep him in a cardboard box down in the basement. When my husband comes home he helps the boy sneak the box up into the bedroom for the night. We are renting this house and the floors are beautifully varnished, but that guinea-pig's box is soaked every morning and it is ruining the floor. Should I give the guinea-pig to the hospital when my boy is at school? I just can't take any more of this. UPSET.

DEAR UPSET It would be cruel to dispose of the boy's pet in his absence. Your husband is being childish. Talk with him about keeping the guinea-pig in the basement, and just to be on the safe side, try foil or wax paper under that box!

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Board Advises Three-Year Variance To Allow Arner's Hotel in CC Area

A petition by Samuel D. Arner for a change of zone from single residential to allow the establishment of a resort hotel in the Cathedral City area was referred by the Board of Supervisors back to the planning commission this week with instructions that the commission consider granting a variance which would permit construction of a hotel in the existing residential area, the variance to be good for a period of three years.

The Arner application has been tossed back and forth for some time now, and the supervisors had before them a reaffirmation by the planning commission of its former recommendation that their denial of a change of zone be upheld.

THE COMMISSION also reiterated its former stand that a variance would be the proper way to allow the hotel. No particular time limit was suggested, though all variances are of limited duration, usually with a provision for renewal.

Action by the supervisors followed a three to two vote against a motion by Supervisor William Jones, seconded by Supervisor Fred McCall, that the zoning of a ten-acre site for a hotel be granted as requested. The vote to have the commission consider a three-year variance was unanimous.

ARNER PRESENTED a petition this week signed by some 70 Cathedral City residents in favor of granting his zoning change request.

Mrs. Geraldine Goodall, owner of property adjacent to Arner's 160 acres on which the ten-acre site is located, said the signers of Arner's petition "reside on the other side of the flood control channel, nowhere near the hotel site." She said that she is not happy about the prospect of travel which a hotel would bring past her property, and she is opposed to a change of zone. She added, however, that if Arner has a bona fide client for a hotel she would not object to a variance.

ARNER HAS STRESSED the need for time to prepare and present a prospectus in order to attract a hotel operator, and has insisted that a hotel man can be attracted only if a change of zone is obtained. He maintains that a 99-year hotel lease is desired.

The hotel site is about a mile south of Cathedral City near the Charlesworth tract. "It has a tremendous view," said Arner, "and is an ideal spot for a hotel for Cathedral City."

County Joins Bond Leaders In Southland

Riverside County today was among the leaders in Southern California counties which helped to continue the current upward trend in sales of Series E and H Savings Bonds in the Southland.

In Riverside County, Tom Holland, chairman of the Savings Bonds program in Palm Springs, disclosed that January sales of $321,592 brought the county a 37 per cent increase over January of 1957. Sales then were $234,763.

In the Southern California area, January sales of $19,483,563 reflect a 23 per cent increase over the $16 million sales recorded in January of last year.

Escapee Finds Jail Is Warmer

SHELBYVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Seven months after he broke out of Shelby County Jail, Clarence E. House Jr., 28, returned and asked to be locked up again.

"I can't get a job," House explained. "And I nearly froze in this kind of weather."

CAR CLUB KIBITZERS line up to offer advice as Bill Maidoff turns the crank to fire up his 1916 Model T Ford Tourer to start the Palm Springs Antique Auto Club's Sunday rally to Banning. The colorful parade of six ancient gas buggies chugged through Palm Springs to rendezvous with clubs from Banning, Riverside and Los Angeles. Some drivers added to this picture of the past by donning costumes typical of the eras in which their respective cars flourished. The kibitzer on the left, Don Miller, is spruced up in knickerbockers to go with his 1926 Franklin. Mr. and Mrs. Lou Arnell, on Maidhoff's right, are wearing dusters fashioned by the original drivers of his 1914 Ford Model T pickup. Also looking on are left to right, Steve Maidhoff, Lorraine Miller, Douglas Miller, Mary Maidhoff, Jim Maidhoff, John Dirnberger, Art Meisterfield, Bernice Meisterfield, Carmelita Smith. Not pictured is Harold Smith. Cars participating in the junket included Miller's 1928 Franklin Limousine, Dirnberger's 1926 Erskine Tourer, Meisterfield's 1920 Packard four-door sedan and Smith's 1914 Ford Model T two door sedan. The six oldtime autos joined nine from Banning, two from Riverside and 17 from Los Angeles for a picnic and "blindfolded driver's" rally in Banning. Maidhoff placed second in the rally event which required him to pilot his auto between zigzag rows of rubber plyons over a 100-yard course while his wife shouted turning instructions in his ear.

Calliope Rhythm, High Aerial Acts To Be Featured

Calliope rhythm and the hush of audiences as they follow high aerial acts will help bring down the curtain on the 1958 Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival when the Cirque Araby moves into the horse show arena this weekend.

To close the fair's 10-day run, 19 circus acts have been assembled for an afternoon's program in the arena on Feb. 22 and 23. There will be only one performance each day, starting at 1:45 p.m.

FAIR MANAGER Robert Fullenwider said that most of the acts are associated with major circuses during the regular season, and at this time of year winter in Southern California. Because this is their inactive period, Riverside County is able to obtain these performers.

Among headliners slated to appear in the arena this weekend are: the Aerial Allans, originally from Denmark; the Linares, high wire artists from Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey; Chet Juszyk, and his wild lions; Capt. Jimmie Jamieson, high dive artist; and Gisel and Curtis, balancing performers.

FULLENWIDER SAID that seating is limited to facilities in the horse show arena that include bleachers, grand stand, and boxes.

Frank Bogert of Palm Springs will be honorary ringmaster, and veteran circus announcer Rookie Lewis will handle the afternoon's events.

There is much goodness associated with desert living, and we only have to pause a moment to observe the waving heads of the sweet scented wild flowers to be reminded. There are also certain characteristics of the area, and outstanding among them are Friendliness and Originality.

One of the friendliest reminders of good living is your friend and mine . . . SAM . . . saw him walking in the sun this morning. After his customary greeting he insisted that his middle name was AMATEUR . . . this is because the word in its strictest sense means "one who loves" . . . this may be true because I am sure that few love the desert more than he.

ORIGINALITY, GOOD taste, and imagination are characteristics of the unusual and charming CLAUDETTE COLBERT shop. How fortunate we are that Claudette decided to bring all these qualities to Palm Springs in her own fascinating way.

The first thing that catches your eye when entering the shop, is the handsome display case standing in the middle of the room.

BUT, THIS IS NOT an ordinary item . . . Claudette saw an 18th century LOUIS PHILIPPE BED in Paris made of cast iron, so what was her interpretation? She brought it home . . . redid the finish with gilt (by hand) . . . and turned it upside down . . . and that is the display case you see now. Treasures inside it include FRENCH and ITALIAN Custom jewelry . . . all personally chosen for you and you will be amazed at some of the tiny prices for so much luxury. I think it is quite exciting to be able to say I am wearing earrings chosen by Claudette Colbert."

Other "personally" chosen items include silk scarves from Paris, wool stoles from the mountains of Savoy, leather and silk bags from Italy, and beaded evening bags from Paris.

ALONG WITH THE shop, and of great importance to the area, is the ART GALLERY featuring European and New York artists.

Each canvas is from an exclusive collection and might well be the treasure that makes your home or office distinctive . . . truly good art lends an atmosphere like nothing else and you are fortunate to have such work available. (219 South Palm Canyon) the toes . . . creations of vinyl and soft kid. The toe is vinyl and the heel and sole outline of leather.

HEADLINING THE fashion news in distinctive footwear for Milady is the FRENCH BOOT-IRE! This is because their styles are bubbling with originality and at the same time baby your foot with comfort. SPANKING NEW for the season is a SPRING-O-LATOR . . . a favorite with a new approach.

COLOR IS A HIGHLIGHT in a rainbow of pastels . . . pink, baby blue, turquoise and white. For more formal occasions the Spring-o-lator is fashioned of gold or black.

Cigaret Blamed For Hotel Blaze Monday Morning

A cigarette dropped in a sofa was today listed as the probable cause for an early morning fire that caused an estimated $2,500 damage to a Lone Palm Hotel bungalow Monday.

Fire Marshal Warren Heath said the blaze caused heavy smoke and fire damage to rooms that were vacated by Village visitors shortly before flames broke out at about 2:30 a.m.

Hotel personnel battled the fire with garden hoses, squelching flames attacking the apartment furniture. City fire fighters called later, chopped into a wall to quench flames smoldering behind the plaster, Heath said.

Supervisor Jones' Consolidation Proposal Said too Late to Affect 1958 Elections

County Counsel Ray T. Sullivan, Jr., told the Board of Supervisors this week that the duties of the county treasurer and county tax collector may be consolidated as proposed last week by Supervisor William Jones, but action to consolidate should be complete before the election process starts March 5. This, he said, would be impossible.

Since it would be necessary to adopt an ordinance to effect the consolidation, and an ordinance adopted the 17th of this month would not take effect until March 19, the action to consolidate could not be completed by the March 5 deadline.

ALTHOUGH ORDINANCES generally do not become effective for 30 days, an emergency ordinance becomes effective immediately, Sullivan told the board, however, that an ordinance consolidating the duties of county offices may not be adopted as an urgency measure.

He said the state constitution expressly provides that no measure creating or abolishing any office or changing the salary, term or duties of any officer shall be construed to be an urgency measure.

"WE CONCLUDE," declared Sullivan, "that under present circumstances an ordinance of consolidation could not take effect until the first Monday after the first day of January in 1963." His report was filed without comment by any of the supervisors. Filed along with Sullivan's report was a report from Administrative Officer Robert T. Andersen that investigation reveals 25 counties have combined treasurer and tax collector under one department. All of the counties listed, with the exception of Los Angeles, are located in the northern part of the state.

Supervisors Grant Sanborn Curb and Gutter Waiver

In spite of reaffirmation by the County Planning Commission that curbs and gutters should be installed in the Ramon Park subdivision north of Ramon Road near the eastern Palm Springs city limits, the Board of Supervisors voted four to one this week to allow the subdivider, Jerry Sanborn, mayor of Palm Springs, to proceed with the project without curbs or gutters.

Thousand Palms Wins First in Fair Exhibits

The community of Thousand Palms was today named first award winner of variety feature exhibits in the 100-square-foot class at the Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival at Indio.

Runners-up in judging of county, community and organization and date feature booths was second-place La Quinta.

OTHER DESERT AREA winners announced by judges today were: Date features: Open, whole dates, Sniff's Date Gardens, Indio, first, and Rick's Date Products, Indio, second; commercial displays, 100 square feet, Rick's Date Products, first; California Date Growers, Indio, second, and Valley Date Gardens, Indio, fourth.

Whole dates, any variety, Valley Date Gardens, second, and California Date Growers, third. Whole dates, commercially processed, any variety, Rick's Date Products, second, and California Date Growers, third.

Veterans Urged To Reconsider Insurance Plan

Desert area veterans carrying National Service Life Insurance on a term basis today were urged by the Service Officer Harry H. Selzer, Owen Coffman Post 519, American Legion, to reconsider their insurance needs in the light of both their present and future earning capacities.

A great portion of the 100,000 veterans in the Southland area who carry government term insurance, it was pointed out by Selzer, have reached the age where it is imperative that they decide whether they will pay a higher premium for permanent plan at the height of their earning capacity or drift into much higher premiums for term insurance as they approach the end of their earning period.

While term insurance for the age of 40 carries the attractive price of $8.50 a month on a $10,000 policy, the price rises in five-year jumps to $26 a month at the age of 60—and on up to $39.70 a month at 65.

On the other hand, while an ordinary life permanent plan policy costs $21.20 a month at the age of 40, it remains at that level for the life of the insured, Selzer said. In addition, permanent insurance carries extra values such as the right to borrow on the policy, after a year, as the equity builds up.

'Sacramento Plan' To Be Studied By Supervisors

A study of the "Sacramento Plan" of waste disposal was suggested this week by Supervisor William Jones and the Board of Supervisors voted unanimously to instruct the road commissioner to make such a study.

"We're having trouble switching over to the cut and fill method of dump operation," said Jones, "and I believe the Sacramento plan may have merit. They process garbage to fertilizer. This is accomplished by franchise agreements with two or three contractors."

Supervisor Paul Anderson said that while he agrees it would be well to look further into the Sacramento operation, he understands it is "tremendously expensive."

The National Automobile Club reports that duck hawks reach a speed of between 170 to 200 miles per hour when in pursuit of prey.

SHE'S A COMIN' ROUND the mountain as Dudley Steele, at the controls in the foreground, brings a streamliner out of a tunnel, by a waterfall and over a bridge on his realistic model railroad, the Shadow Mountain and Sun Line at Shadow Mountain Club. He operates his railroad on Saturdays and Sundays for kids from 6 to 90 at the club. It is an authentic model of the real thing, all done on a 3.16 inch per foot scale. (Desert Sun Photo)

Dudley Steele Entertains Youngsters of All Ages with Elaborate, Realistic Model Train

By R. F. (Phat) GRAETTINGER
Railroads of the United States may be alarmed by what they consider unfair regulation, discriminatory taxes and the like, but there is one that is flourishing without a worry over ICC rules or truck, barge, auto and air competition.

That's the SM&SL. The SM&SL is in flourishing condition, its rolling stock and equipment in fine shape. It maintains its schedules and has a high safety record.

OF COURSE, there is no revenue to meet operating costs for the Shadow Mountain and Sun Line Railroad in Palm Desert is strictly a hobby for the enjoyment of its owner, Dudley M. Steele of Sun Lodge, and the members and guests of Shadow Mountain Club.

"For the youngsters from 6 to 60—and maybe 70 or 80," said President Steele.

FIRST, A FEW technical details which will interest other model railroaders.

The SM&SL is "S" gauge. That means it's built on a scale of 3.16 of an inch to a foot. The gauge is 1/8 inch. Trackage, buildings, billboards, depots, round-house, in fact, every bit of equipment is exactly on that scale.

The road owns two 4-8-2 steam hogs for heavy duty, 4-6-2 for fast passenger service, an 0-8-0 heavy switcher, two diesel road units and two diesel switcher units.

THERE ARE TWENTY revenue freight cars of all classes, a streamliner passenger train and a Pullman train, bringing the passenger rolling stock to nine sleek cars.

There is also plenty of scenery which Steele has built to give his pike that realistic look. Everything is there, a high voltage power line, telegraph wires, water tanks, power houses, cattle loading docks with miniature cattle, trees, grass, a waterfall, a talking depot (it contains a record which announces trains, semaphores, lighted bill boards along the high iron, a big freight yard—all on the 3.16" scale. There are 230 feet of track, which according to scale is about three miles.

STEELE STARTED his railroad while living in Glendale and it took him 14 months to get it looking like a real railroad.

When he moved to the desert, he employed a crane, lifted the house which contains it on a truck and moved it bodily to Shadow Mountain Club where it is now housed on the grounds. He has been on the desert for about seven years.

Over the span of years he estimates that SM&SL cost about $5,000.

AS AN EXAMPLE of the minute detail which went into its building and to control all movements of trains, take care of switching and other realistic operations, there are more than 2,000 soldered connections in the layout.

Every Saturday and Sunday the steam hogs and diesels pull their trains over the high iron and chug in the yards to the delight of Shadow Mountain Club members and their guests. Naturally, it is a mecca for the kids.

STEELE STARTED his hobby which keeps him busy with all of the intricate connections and scenery building, when he retired as president and owner of the

Clergyman Takes Bride In Double Ring Ceremony

An impressive wedding ceremony was held Saturday evening in Palm Springs Community Church, when Marjorie Anne Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil A. Johnson of 5812 Colfax Avenue, North Hollywood, and Reverend Donald Santee Bachtell, repeated their wedding vows in a double ring ceremony before Dr. James A. Blackstone Jr.

Preceding the wedding party to the flower banked altar were Paul and David Barker who lit the candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in an imported white satin princess style wedding gown trimmed in deep Alencon lace. Her head dress was a coronet of seed pearls which caught up her three quarter length hair in a bun. Around her neck she wore a string of pearls, a gift of the groom and carried a bouquet of lavender and white orchids.

Serving the bride as matron of honor, was Mrs. Carlyle Larson, and bridesmaids were Nancy McCulloch, Marlene Johnson and Mrs. Eugene Johnson. Little Theresa Johnson, groomed in white organza with red velvet sash, made a pretty flower girl.

Carlyle Larson acted as best man and ushers were King Jones, James Schilling and Ted Green.

Robert F. Johnson was soloist and sang "At Dawning", hymn of prayer and consecration.

Two Girls At Youth Conference

Largest youth conference in California history was held this week in Sacramento and Palm Springs High School was represented by Barbara Bares and Ann Daniel. These two girls were selected by the Student Body because of excellent scholastic and school activities.

Barbara is the Student Body vice president and Ann is president of the Junior Class. Both have been very active in their student council.

Because of the personal interest of their leader, Madeline Bagdasarian, and the Parent-Teacher Association, these girls were presented a gift of $100 for their expenses of this trip.

Actual registration of this two-day meeting on Youth Participation in Community Affairs was 3476. Governor Knight opened the conference and delegates were scheduled to break up into small groups to discuss problems facing youth. Some of these divisions offered were: The Family, School, Church, Jobs for Youth, Motor Age, Delinquency Prevention, Community Affairs. Around Town with Hildy Crawford

Oooo... la... la... It isn't Springtime yet... but we can love Paris just the same... and we'll be doing just that on Saturday night at the Tennis Club... when the Club presents a Soiree Parisienne... with all the fun and gaiety of a night in Paris... in the smart French atmosphere of the world-famous club... Dinner will have a French menu and be served with wines and entertainment... and there will be prizes for the best Left Bank and Apache clothes... It will be fun... mais, oui, entertainment... and couldn't fit in better with the decor... They are expecting a crowd... so reservations s'il vous plait...

So the red and white and blue at the Tennis Club Saturday night... will stand for the Tri-Color... Washington's Birthday is the date... which the Dean Vincents have chosen for their annual chuckwagon breakfast at their home on Rio del Sol... This is always a big affair... with most of the guests turning out in western clothes...

That's the evening that Buddy and Sy Simon are hosting a cocktail buffet for around 60 at their home on Via Norte... introducing the Harold Simons... The Harold Simons and the Sy Simons are no relation... but the women are new law partners... Harold's family is presently living in Vista, California but will be moving down here... This affair is the first of a series of three... The other two will be on March 1 and March 8...

Weekend guests of Lillian and Franklyn MacCarthy... were two of Lillian's warmest friends... Mrs. William S. Baird and Mrs. William R. McKay... With Mrs. McKay was a friend Miss Pearl Vaughn of Hanford, where she is active in the Republican Central Committee...

The Burt Lancasters are out at LaQuinta... So are the Jack Hausmans (she's chairman of the board of Cerebral Palsy Foundation)... and the Joseph Blocks (he's president of Inland Steel)... and Commissioner and Mrs. Richard C. Patterson (he's former ambassador to Costa Rica, Guatemala and Switzerland)...

Have you noticed those rose stickers on cars... around the Village... Every car in town should have one... but that's impossible as there are only 5000 of them... so you'd better get yours now...

They are, of course, one of the money raising schemes to help finance Palm Springs float in the 1959 Tournament of Roses parade... The goal is $15,000 but that will only pay for an AVERAGE float... and that's just not good enough for Palm Springs... which should have nothing but the best... The Rose decals... at $1 each... may be purchased through the Elks Lodge...

Houseguests of Lillian and John McClure at their Mesquite home this coming weekend... will be the Lawrence Frankleys and the Roy Hoffmans... who will be helping to celebrate John's birthday on Saturday...

Gizele Sawtelle introduced the poetry of Guild member Joan Forvilly, reading several of her delightful poems ranging from the whimsical to the serious. CVSLA, Santa Fe Join In Scholarship Program

Coachella Valley Savings and Loan and Santa Fe Savings and Loan Associations here have joined in an "Outstanding Student Award" program fostered by savings and loan associations throughout the state.

The two Village institutions will give cash awards to one outstanding senior graduating from Palm Springs High School and Coachella Valley Union High School in a program covering 300 of the state's public high schools.

STUDENTS WINNING the individual savings and loan cash awards, starting at the end of the current spring term, will be eligible to enter a May 24 essay contest in competition for five $1,000 scholarships.

Participation of the two associations was announced at a Shadow Mountain Club luncheon by William H. Smith, Coachella Valley Savings president, and James Givens, manager of Santa Fe's Palm Springs branch.

THE ASSOCIATION executives explained that by adding to funds available for higher education, the savings and loan businessmen feel that it may encourage students to achieve higher scholastic standards and participate in extra-curricular activities which help develop leadership.

Actual cash awards will be made during the spring of 1958 to an outstanding graduate of each high school for the 1957-58 term.

Two Die, 20 Injured in Car-Bus Crash On 99

Bridge Near Indio Scene Of Tragedy

Rancho Mirage Resident Is Driver of Car

Two Los Angeles area motorists died instantly last night when their speeding auto hurtled head-on into a Greyhound bus as they flashed across a narrow Highway 99 bridge, 20 miles south of Indio. The terrific impact injured all 20 bus occupants, but none were listed as critical, the California Highway Patrol reported.

THE DEAD WERE identified as William Alvin Upshaw, 42, of Los Angeles and Rancho Mirage, driver of the car and a witness in the famous Monahan murder case, and his passenger, Leroy McCray, 35, of Venice.

Injured bus passengers were loaded in four ambulances and taken to Coachella Valley and Casa Hospital in Indio, where they were treated for injuries ranging from serious to minor.

HIGHWAY PATROLMEN said Upshaw was apparently trying to pass another vehicle when the oncoming El Centro-bound bus suddenly filled the two-lane road. Upshaw tried to return to his traffic lane, lost control and slammed in to the bus, officers said.

The impact ripped a gaping hole in the bus, pinned driver Woodrow O. Wallace, 43, behind his steering wheel and catapulted two bus passengers through the windshield.

One man crawled into the bus, popped open an emergency door and freed the screaming passengers.

THE HUGE BUS was jammed through the railing of a small bridge spanning a desert wash near the community of Oasis. The mangled front end of the car, jammed against the bus, was telescoped into the driver's compartment.

Injured and dazed passengers milled about the crash scene as rescuers freed Wallace from his imprisoning wheel. Wallace, of La Crescenta, suffered a broken ankle and broken ribs.

UPSHAW, DRIVER of the death car, was prominent as a witness in the trial of Emmet Perkins, Barbara Graham and Jack Santon, who were executed for the March 9, 1933, murder of Mrs. Mabel Monahan.

Now under treatment at Casa Hospital in Indio is Gabriel Varela, 37, of Indio, who suffered back injuries and facial laceration. Patrolmen said Varela was one of the two occupants who went through the bus windshield. His condition is fair.

FOURTEEN OTHER crash victims are now under treatment at Coachella Valley Hospital for injuries including multiple contusions, abrasions and minor fractures.

None are regarded as serious, hospital officials said.

The other bus passengers were released after emergency treatment for minor cuts.

Desert area residents listed among the injured were B. G. Baldrige, 21, and Paul Borkla, 25, both of Indio.

House Committee Starts Action On Disability Bill

WASHINGTON — A House Judiciary Subcommittee today approved a presidential disability bill that would permit the vice-president to decide when he should take over temporarily the duties of an ailing president. The 3-2 vote followed party lines.

Republicans opposed the measure. They supported the administration's contention that a constitutional amendment is necessary to resolve the question of how to determine when a president is too disabled to carry on.

DILWORTH TO AID IN SEEKING STATE ACTION ON 99 SAND

State Sen. Nelson Dilworth today said he plans to seek state action for protection against sand damage on Highway 99, between Garnet and Thousand Palms.

Senator Dilworth will attend a California State Highway Commission hearing on the area's sand-blasting problem on Feb. 26 in Sacramento.

The Riverside County senator said that he will present to the commission evidence that damages to the motoring public exceed $1 million a year on the wind-lashed, 10-mile stretch of desert highway.

A BATTERED GREYHOUND bus rests on the edge of a Highway 99 bridge, where two motorists met death last night when their car hurtled head-on into the huge vehicle. Two bus passengers were catapulted through the bus windshield and the driver was pinned beneath his wheel as the auto ripped a gaping hole under the driver's seat. Twenty injured and dazed bus passengers milled about the scene as ambulance attendants (right photo) cover the body of one of the car's two dead occupants. California Highway Patrolmen identified the dead motorists as William Alvin Upshaw, 42, of Los Angeles and Rancho Mirage, and Leroy McCray, 35, of Venice. Bus driver Woodrow O. Wallace, 43, of La Crescenta, suffered a broken ankle and fractured ribs. None of the passengers were seriously injured. (Roy Gillman Photos)

Five Killed In Truck-Car Crash on 99

Accident Near Brawley; Victims All from Auto

Five persons were killed today when a 15-ton semi-truck and trailer crashed head-on into an automobile traveling without lights and in the wrong lane on U. S. highway 99, near Brawley, sheriff's deputies reported.

The bodies of the five victims, all occupants of the car, were taken to Brawley.

THE VICTIMS were all Mexican nationals who worked as laborers at the Shell Ranch in Coachella Valley. The driver was Francisco A. Nunez, 22. The other dead were Epifanio Sanchez Reyes, 22, Leopoldo Flores Ramirez, 22, Tomas U. Mojica, 32, and Santos Onofre Romero, 26.

Truck driver Frank Streicher, Santa Maria, who was uninjured, said he was southbound about 23 miles northwest of here when he saw the car coming toward him in the wrong lane.

HE SAID HE swerved his rig in an attempt to avoid a collision but the auto darted in front of him.

John W. Moore, agricultural official at the Trifolium inspection station at the intersection where the wreck occurred, said the car stopped barely short of his station. Moore said a wreck in the same area on Feb. 1 took five lives.

Pedestrian Hit By Car, Suffers Abrasions, Bruises

A 76-year-old Santa Ana man, staying locally at the Rancho Trailer Park, was hospitalized last night after being struck by a car driven by James Homer Carlisle, 1347 El Alameda, Palm Springs.

William F. Van Meter, suffered contusions of the right leg and knee, multiple bruises and abrasions after being struck by the car near 1563 South Palm Canyon Drive last night.

Rice Tells Area Business Group Sub-Stations Not Answer in Desert

CATHEDRAL CITY — Sheriff Joe Rice said yesterday that there is little likelihood that sheriff's sub-stations would be set up in either Cathedral City or Desert Hot Springs.

But Rice, answering questions of the Cathedral City Area Business Association, asserted that residents of the area protected by deputies from the Banning station are "getting a terrific bargain in law enforcement" despite a serious manpower shortage.

THE COUNTRY'S chief law enforcement executive told association members that new sub-stations here would not improve county law enforcement. He explained that better policing could be obtained only by the addition of more deputies to existing facilities.

Rice, attending an association meeting at Wonder Palms Hotel,

PUC to Release Telephone Firms

By FRED C. WEIGEL

After two years of work and millions of dollars worth of new equipment and improvements, the California Public Utilities Commission may finally free three telephone companies from commission scrutiny, after public hearings on protests come to an end today.

On the second anniversary of the protests of service by the combined Chambers of Commerce of Palm Desert, Palm Springs, Rancho Mirage, Cathedral City and Desert Hot Springs, officials of the California Water and Telephone company testified that they had spent close to $4 million dollars during the past two years to bring the company up to a high standard.

THE PUC HEARINGS have been conducted several times during the past year as local telephone subscribers took the stand to protest the service by the companies serving the local area.

Examiner Manley W. Edwards and members of the engineering staff of the PUC indicated today that the hearings would now be closed and a final decision made by the Commission.

CLAYTON B. THOMAS, attorney for the combined Chambers of Commerce, asked the commission to keep the case open, and the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce followed suit by asking independently in a letter to the commission that the case be kept open.

William C. Bricca, attorney for the commission, told The Desert Sun that the staff would definitely ask that the case be closed. "It can always be re-opened either by the commission or unsatisfied subscribers," the attorney said.

THE DECISION to close the case is up to the Public Utilities Commission when it meets in San Francisco. It will issue a final finding and order in the case before closing the books.

Every indication was given yesterday in testimony before the commission that the companies have "done all in their power to bring the service up to standard and above standard," even though a string of protesters testified that service by the Coachella Valley Home Telephone and Telegraph Company was still "bad," even though "the company did spend $1 million dollars, $500,000 more than was budgeted, to improve the service."

TESTIMONY YESTERDAY on the inadequacies of the service was based mostly on not being able to hear on long distance. See TELEPHONE, Page 2

Russia Asks Nuclear Free Zone in Korea

MOSCOW — The Soviet Union today proposed a nuclear-free zone comprising North and South Korea as a step toward unification of that divided country.

At the same time, it called for an international conference to seek "a rapprochement between both parts of Korea."

The Soviet proposals were contained in a statement released by Foreign Ministry press chief L. F. Ilychev at a press conference this afternoon.

ILYCHEV ANNOUNCED that the Soviet Union supported Red China's decision to evacuate "volunteers" from North Korea by stages, with complete withdrawal by the end of 1958.

The Soviet statement lauded the Chinese move and called it "one of the most important measures toward lessening international tensions, strengthening confidence between states, and strengthening peace."

THE STATEMENT blamed the United States and South Korea for failing to implement the Geneva armistice agreement and "rejecting a number of constructive proposals made by the North Korean government."

AF Has Fastest, Fightingest Plane

HAMILTON AFB, Calif. — The Air Force today accepted a fighter-interceptor plane that will fly twice the speed of sound and will push America's defense perimeter far out over its oceans.

The plane, called the F104A Starfighter, is an "upper stratosphere" fighter and was billed by Lockheed as the "fastest, fightingest and highest-flying interceptor ever built."

EXACT RANGE of the new plane was not disclosed but spokesmen said it would sweep the air for "hundreds of miles" on the defense perimeter.

The plane was put into operation for the Western Air Defense Command today by Lt. Gen. J. H. Atkinson.

Air Force and Lockheed officials said the plane will fly more than twice the speed of sound and "climb as fast as it will fly."

Lockheed called the aircraft a "missile with a man in it."

THE STARFIGHTER is a stubby weapon packing "more firepower per pound than any jet ever built," the Air Force said.

Performance specification of the new jet were still under security wraps but the Air Force released these statistics about it: —It contains the most powerful jet engine, thrust per pound, yet developed.

—It will use the fastest-firing aerial machinegun ever built, a 20 millimeter, a Gatling-type cannon capable of firing 6,000 rounds per minute.

—It will carry Sidewinder missiles guided by an infrared tracking device capable of destroying a target the pilot never see.

—It will contain the first downward ejection system for a production type jet fighter. This removes the hazard of an ejected pilot colliding with the aircraft when he bails out.

PRESIDENT, MAMIE INVITED TO VISIT HERE WITH 'PRIVACY'

President Eisenhower and his wife today were invited by the City of Palm Springs and the Chamber of Commerce to come to Palm Springs for a "completely private" vacation in the sun.

In a telegram sent this morning by Mayor Jerry Sanborn and CoC President Dewey Metzdorf, it was pointed out that the temperature ranges in the high 70's and that "suitable accommodations" with "guaranteed privacy" are available.

It was disclosed by Press Secretary James C. Hagerty this morning that the President might fly to Arizona this weekend from Thomasville, Ga., but would only be there long enough to leave Mrs. Eisenhower off at Phoenix, and then continue on to Washington.

Atlas Explodes In Air Again

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — The second Atlas intercontinental missile in a row exploded in the sky today two minutes after it was launched from the Air Force Missile Test Center here.

The Air Force announced that the two million dollar missile, exactly as its predecessor did 13 days ago, exploded in the sky "shortly after completion of the propulsion phase of its flight."

CENSUS BUREAU NEEDS ADDITIONAL ENUMERATORS HERE

The Bureau of Census is badly in need of more applicants for enumerators for the special census currently under way in Palm Springs.

Vernon L. Miller, special census supervisor, explained today that approximately 10 more persons are needed to enumerate the local people, and that the pay rate is six cents per name.

Applications will be accepted by telephone by calling Miller at FA 5-2535 between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. today and tomorrow.

Leopold, Thrill Killer, Is Paroled

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Nathan Leopold, sentenced to both 99 years and life for the "crime of the century" slaying of Bobby Franks in 1924, today was granted freedom.

The Illinois Parole Board gave him a parole despite the injunction of the trial judge that he was never to be released.

LEOPOLD AT THE age of 19 with Richard Loeb — two brilliant rich youths — killed neighbor boy Franks of Chicago for a thrill. They used a chisel.

The board also granted a parole to prohibition era gangster Roger Touhy. But for Touhy the board

SAN FRANCISCO — The Sacramento River swirled dangerously against its soggy levees today, forcing 1,200 residents to flee the Hamilton City area lest the waters suddenly engulf them.

The situation on the Sacramento was the one potential disaster area in California as a result of a deluge that pounded the whole state Wednesday.

THE FORECAST today was for partly cloudy skies and no rain. Thus the north part of the state had a chance to dry out from Wednesday's torrential downpours that crippled rail and highway transportation, closed schools and flooded homes and businesses in hundreds of places.

In the Hamilton City area, a farming community 140 miles northeast of here, 1,200 residents took shelter in Orland. Civil defense officials feared the soggy levees might suddenly collapse.

Early today, Constable Al London of Orland said the situation "looks pretty good."

"WE'VE GOT SEVERAL hundred men working on the levees and so far they're holding," he said. "The water's gone down some, too, and that's a help."

He explained he meant not the water in the river, but from creeks in the area. It was so high Wednesday that nearly all roads into Hamilton City were under water.

action meant only another step toward possible freedom in August, 1959.

HOW SOON LEOPOLD walks out from the Stateville Prison that has held him since Sept. 11, 1924, depends on how soon the Division of Parole Supervision investigates and approves his housing and employment plans.

Touhy must now serve a six-month institutional parole in prison, then start serving minimum time on a three remaining years of a 199-year term for prison escape. He could then apply for parole on the second sentence and be freed in August, 1959.

World Prayer Day Service Set at St. Paul's

The annual observance of the World Day of Prayer, which always takes place on the First Friday in Lent, will this year be hosted by St. Paul's in the Desert Episcopal Church, 125 W. El Alameda, in cooperation with the Community Church of Palm Springs.

Christian groups of women throughout the world observe this day of cooperative prayer life with the intention of preparing for the Easter Season, as well as increasing cooperation and understanding between various Christian groups.

Dr. James Blackstone, Jr., pastor of the Community Church, and the Rev. William A. Blondon, Jr., rector of St. Paul's in the Desert, will conduct the service which will be held from 3 to 4 p.m., on Friday, Feb. 21.

All women are invited to attend the service, and have received a special invitation from the rector of St. Paul's.

Klemp to Give Museum Program Friday Night

F. C. Klemp, world traveler and resident of Thunderbird, will present a sound-color motion picture for the Desert Museum tomorrow, Friday, at 8 p.m., in Frances Stevens Auditorium.

The film is entitled "Mediterranean Tour" and will depict the colorful and scenic areas to be seen in this historically interesting region. The public is invited. There will be no field trip nor any program on Saturday.

TELEPHONE

calls, number mixups in the directories, and an inability to complete long distance calls. One witness, Marian A. Harris, testified that she has had an order in for a switchboard since May, 1957, was promised delivery in four months, told four months later that it would not arrive from the company until December, 1957, and still does not have it installed. She runs a telephone answering service in Palm Desert.

The commission has ordered that the company answer the charges in a letter to them.

NO TESTIMONY was given by subscribers against the local office of California Water and Telephone Company, and the only testimony was by engineers and administrators of the company who reported to the Commission the amount of work that has been done.

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, which was brought into the case by order of the PUC, reported only in answers to questions asked by the Commission. Most important of all these answers was the fact that a deficiency still exists in the Palm Desert service.

THE COMPANY said that "subscribers in the Indio and Thousand Palms exchanges of Coachella Valley Telephone Company now complete outward long distance calls via that company's direct distance dialing equipment or toll switchboard at Indio, which in turn have direct access to the Pacific Company's long distance dial switching offices at San Bernardino and Los Angeles. The handling of Palm Desert outgoing traffic requiring operator assistance is an exception to this plan."

U. S. Atomic Energy Exhibit To Be Displayed Here Feb. 27

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission's newest traveling exhibit will be shown in Palm Springs on Thursday, Feb. 27, Bob Holt, chairman of the exhibit for the Palm Springs Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced today.

The exhibit is being shown in Palm Springs as part of a statewide tour of California, Holt said.

THE EXHIBIT is a self-contained, walk-through mobile unit housed in a modern bus-type vehicle to be located in the downtown area. Entitled "Atoms For Peace," it is the latest in a series of traveling atomic-energy exhibits prepared by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission as part of its many programs to bring the latest information on atomic energy to the general public in a concise, easy-to-understand form.

The exhibit is one of four "Atoms for Peace" mobile units now touring the country under the sponsorship of the National University Extension Association and the National Junior Chamber of Commerce. Showings throughout California are being handled by the State Extension Department and the California Junior Chamber of Commerce.

VISITORS TO THE exhibits will, in a relatively short period of time, obtain a comprehensive picture of the many ways in which the peaceful atom is playing a more-and-more important role in everyday life.

A series of panels, several of them operated by the spectator himself, explain research and development in the atomic-energy field, ranging from the mining and refining of radioactive ores to the

5-Acre Tract Road Request To Be Studied

Road Commissioner A. C. Keith told the Board of Supervisors this week that the present road used as an entrance to a section of land off the Palms to Pines highway, near Palm Desert, divided by the Government into five acre tracts, is over flat land and its construction and maintenance cost would be nominal.

He said, however, that the quarter-mile extension requested by residents in the area, would be over a hard rock butte and seems entirely unfeasible.

Keith reminded the board that it has been its policy that any such road may be accepted into the county road system only when it has been improved to regular subdivision standards.

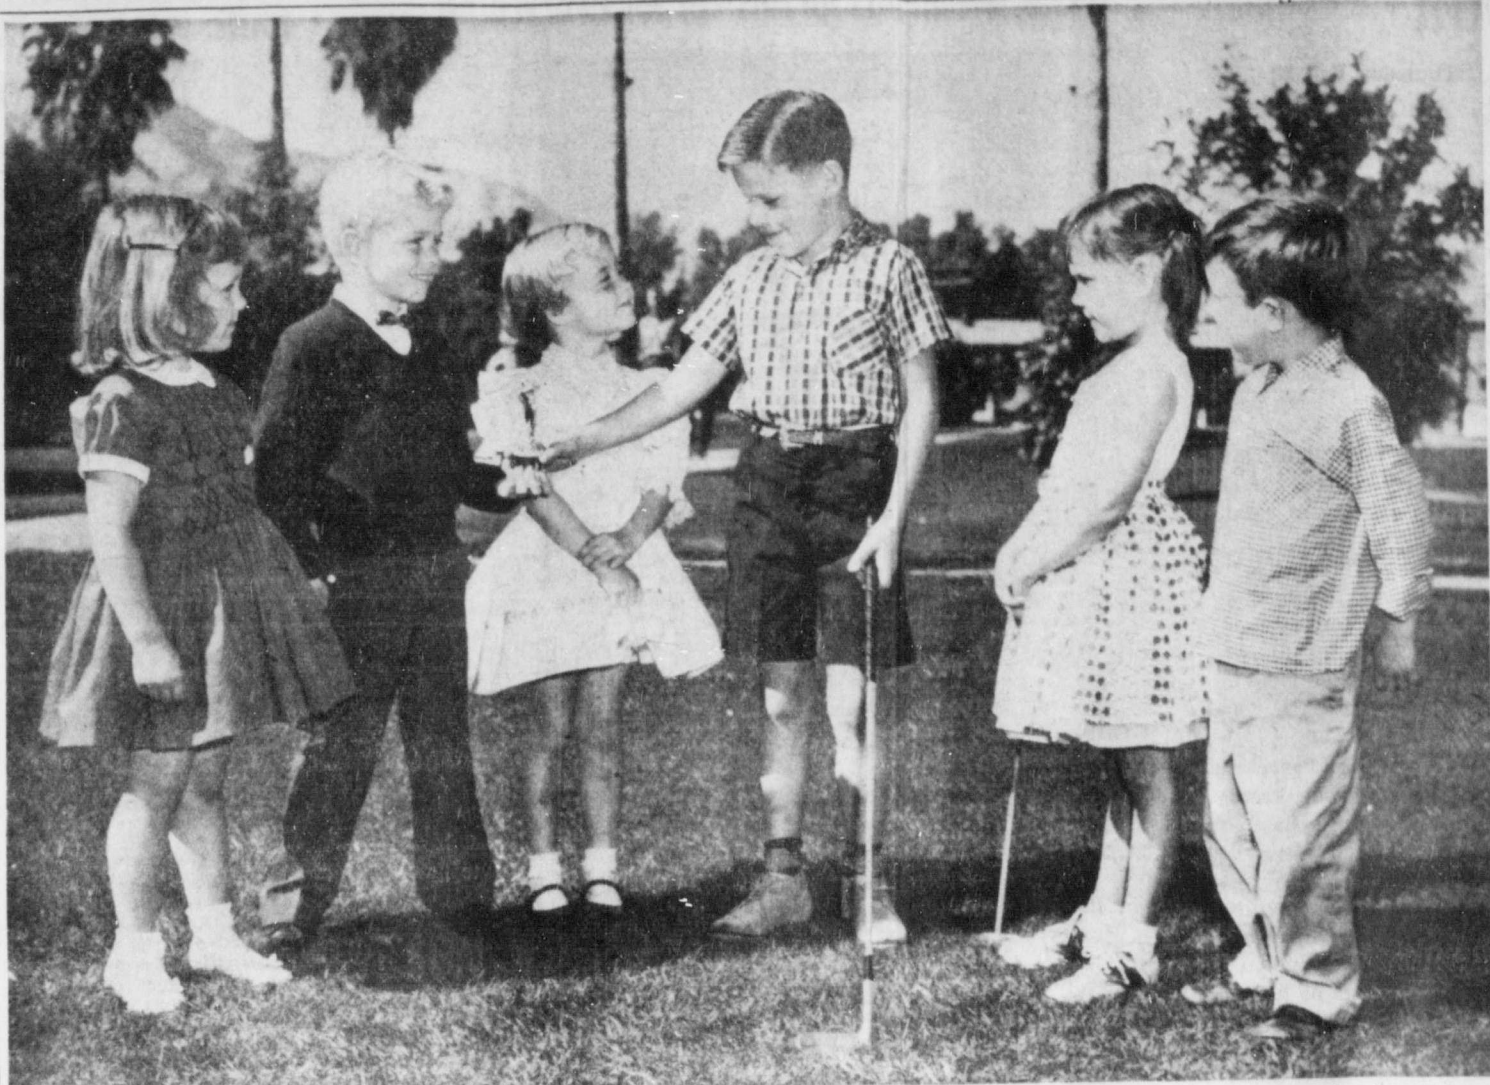

The matter was referred by the board to the planning commission.

Wasted Effort

SYRACUSE, N.Y.—(UP)—Police said some burglars apparently expended a good deal of effort in knocking off the dial, pushing out the pin and finally ripping off the door from the safe at the Syracuse Coal Co. The burglars, who found the safe empty, should have looked at the front of the safe door—on which was written the combination.

Halfway Around the World in 97½ Days

(Editor's Note: Priscilla Chaffey, who was once active on the Village news gathering scene, is now on a 97½-day Halfway Around the World tour. This is her seventh report on her experiences.)

By PRISCILLA CHAFFEY

When you talk to people and they know not what you say; and when these people talk to you and you understand not a single word you feel like a fathead!

That is our present lamentable state. We've been studying Spanish like a tiger. Lessons every day and mucho work on the irregular verbs. We can talk to ourselves fine in Spanish and we understand every word. But the people don't understand. We've about to adopt the attitude of the British residents. "It's up to these people to understand English, by Jove!"

WE TOLD OUR waiter in the dining room today that we liked lots of salad with no dressing and he said, "Oh, no, Madame, it is not the FOG, it is the African sirocco which fills the air with a dust substance which appears to be fog." Pretty frustrating.

However, to the best of our knowledge our language problems have not added up to equal those of the Venezuelan with whom we play ping pong. We asked him how about a game and he bellowed across the lounge in his confident English, "Alas no, Senora. I am so constipated I could not see the ball!" Shook up the Britishers.

CONSTIPATION. WE learned later, is a literal translation of the Spanish word for head cold.

We didn't travel 9,000 miles to write home about Britishers but they are a charge! (Tony Burke can stop reading at this point if he must.) An obviously intelligent and well educated Britisher told us in the bar last night that he considered the Boston Tea Party a most disastrous tragedy! "Not for the British, mind you, but for the Americans, what? Far better off as a colony of the Crown. Far better off."

He was willing to see both sides of the matter obviously, for he went on to say, "Of course, Britain stupid too in making such a snatter over tea. Very stupid. Whole thing most unfortunate."

WE REMARKED mildly, being a minority group of one, that we questioned if he would find any Americans who would share his view. Whereupon he pished and poshed and beetled his brows and answered, "Look at Canada!" That seemed to settle everything to his satisfaction.

One more bar incident—a Scotsman from Aberdeen asked us if he couldn't buy us a drink? We allowed we'd be delighted and tried not to look too surprised at this lavish gesture from a Scotchman. It all turned out according to the form sheet however. The dry Martini he gave us didn't have any gin in it. Just Vermouth.

THE DATE GROWERS of the Coachella Valley may well contribute a revolution in date culture to the Canarios of Gran Canaria. We have been brooding over the condition of the date palms in the hotel garden. They produce dates plentifully but the fruit is meazly, wizened and yellow. We couldn't figure out why because the palms are obviously in good shape.

We pinned down the handsome and able owner of the hotel, Major Quiney, and told him the date palms didn't look as if they were being fertilized. Taking him through a gradual and easy tour of the bees and the flowers, we explained to him that it isn't enough to have a male palm in the group. The female palm had to be fertilized by hand with the flowers of the male.

HE LOOKED SOMEWHAT agast and we got the impression that in his opinion, some American women have too many foolish notions for their own good. We told him the classic Coachella Valley story about the only time there had ever been a failure in the date crop was when Joshua decided to let nature take its course. But he is still not convinced.

So have that veteran date grower Ray Cree, send us a pamphlet on date culture. No reason why these Canarios should not have good dates. They have the climate and the irrigation water.

ON THE NEARBY island of Gomera, which is the step child of the Canary group they raise a wonderful soft date, unsuitable for shipping but very delicious. Presumably the inhabitants know about the romance of the date.

But no Gran Canario could possibly learn anything from an inhabitant of Gomera, because, in his opinion, the Gomerans don't know anything. So much hangs on the cooperation of Ray Cree. On second thought, he better bring the pamphlet on date culture over personally. We're pretty lonesome.

Dahlias, though named after Swedish botanist Andreas Dahl, were first used as food by ancient Mexicans. The tubers contain a healthful starchy substance, inulin.

Council Candidates Invited To Express Campaign Views

With the Councilmanic election only a matter of weeks away, it would seem that now is an excellent time for each of the candidates to issue a statement to the voters setting forth his or her individual views regarding the conduct of City affairs, particularly any ideas and aims for community betterment and achievement.

The time honored American election tradition calls for candidates seeking office, both incumbents and new aspirants, to inform the public of their stand and objectives relating to major matters of civic interest.

At this stage of the campaign there seem to be no particularly controversial or outstanding municipal issues, with the possible exception of the third presentation of the twice defeated sewer bond proposal.

Not appearing on the ballot are two matters of as yet "unfinished" municipal business in which the residents of Palm Springs are vitally interested, and which could easily become the determining factor in the election of candidates in the contested districts.

In the yet to be accomplished category is the paving of McCallum Way from Indian Avenue to Sunrise Way, which has been twice voted by the people, and the long awaited completion and adoption of a Master Plan for the City.

If this status quo remains at election time, voters are certain to be keenly interested in the stand of the respective candidates for City Council on these two important subjects.

As a public service to the community, The DESERT SUN is pleased to extend an invitation to each of the candidates to submit a statement of his or her individual platform for election for publication in this newspaper.

Every candidate has an equal opportunity, and may the best man—or woman—win!

The Trumpet and the Sword

WASHINGTON, D.C. — George Washington left no legend of his return, in spirit, to lead the country. Perhaps this is one thing wrong with the American nation. Older countries have their legends. Blow the trumpet of some dead hero, and he will come again. Call for the sword of some mighty king, and it will rise from the lake. But our republic, born in the 18th century age of reason, has no such romantic legend of heroic resurrection.

Speaking much more realistically than this, Senator Richard Russell (D., Ga.) was saying the other day that the American people are capable of anything—if only they were called upon to deliver. The Senator is an eloquent man even in private discourse, and his Confederate background is not inconsonant with trumpets and swords.

HE WAS SAYING that nobody in our time knew the full capacity of this country. It has never been summoned. It was not summoned by President Roosevelt in World War II. F.D.R. was too conscious of preserving Labor's "social gains." We might have come much closer to financing the war out of the current taxes, rather than build an insurmountable debt, if F.D.R. had used his great power to ask for real sacrifices.

"With their boys overseas, people don't care about the size of taxes," said Russell. "They feel that any sacrifice at home is nothing compared to what the boys are offering in battle."

AND TODAY? IS President Eisenhower calling for our best? The Cold War does not have the drama and heart-pangs of combat, but it is a battle just the same. National sovereignty is probably in more-peril at a Summit meeting, where our leaders might be bidding for "peace" out of fear or weakness, than it ever was from the land-locked forces of Hitler.

Our time is a time for giving up frills, superabundance, and even "social gains," so that we can halt Communism at the front door and Socialism at the back door. Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services committee, thinks the cost of new weapons should be brought home.

"The people ought to be made to see that they are part of the defense effort. They can't offer sacrifices if they're continually told they can have their cake and eat it too."

THEN, IS PRESIDENT Eisenhower failing in leadership? Like most Southern Senators, Russell is reluctant to hurl the invective of blame and lack-luster at the President. At this writing the scapegoat for lack of military preparedness is still former Defense Secretary Charles Wilson.

Everybody here likes Ike. But this is not the main reason for Senator Russell's disinclination to blame the President. There are others to blame. Both major parties are hiding back on leadership in order to keep whetting the people's appetite for more pie-in-the-sky.

"WHAT IS A MAN in public life to do?" the Senator was musing. "We have a Congressional system with elections every two years. Suppose one candidate goes out with a bone in his hand and tells the people they'll have to start living on soup? Along comes the other candidate and invites the people to sit down to a dinner of sirloin steak. If a man wants to stay in office, he has to think about these things."

So the fault for no leadership lies not only at the White House. It lies at the doors of Congress, too, where nearly every member is either thinking of his reelection or of his constituents, which comes to the same thing in most cases.

THE BLAME LIES also with non-political leaders, including businessmen and farmers, who demand Federal economies everywhere except in their own communities of interest. And, of course, most of all, it lies with the American people themselves. They allowed what the Constitution calls their "republican form of government" to be perverted into a charge-account automat for hand-outs and giveaways. We are already paying the bills for past extravagances. Our children will be paying the Government even more—if, indeed, they still have a sovereign country under their feet.

NOBODY, THEN, is guiltless. Senator Russell himself, a thorough-going conservative, has done all he can to subsidize family farmers and to keep them from fading into the radical Labor force. The solution, most certainly, is not in blame-giving.

Very likely the only solution is to be found in the legends of older nations. Is there a trumpet for America? Is there a sword? Is there still in our soft and flinching people a spark that would kindle to the right sort of message?

It almost gets down to this: Can the American political system still produce a true leader? And would the American people listen if he promised them something like work, sweat and hard realities?—Holmes Alexander

My taxes are plenty high and I happen to enjoy looking at a nice lawn and blooming flowers. I'd keep any baseballs that landed on my property too. Come visit me at the Smithsonian Institute because I must be another old fossil. FOSSIL NUMBER TWO

DEAR ABBY: I was glad to see you tell off that old grouch who kept the kids' baseballs that landed in his yard. Doesn't he know that when boys are playing ball they can't be smoking marijuana or stealing hub caps and doing various other acts that kids like sometimes do for excitement? If we're going to stamp out juvenile delinquency we must encourage our young boys to engage in wholesome neighborhood sports like baseball. What's a couple of rose bushes and a patch of grass?

EX-BIG LEAGUE BALL PLAYER

DEAR ABBY: Everyone knows that 99 out of 100 women marry because they do not want to work and support themselves. I see nothing wrong with this philosophy, neither do I see anything wrong with the reverse. I am a very desirable young gentleman with the finest of breeding but I do not care for common labor and there are no positions open at present for men of my qualifications. I dance well, can converse intelligently on religion, world politics and the arts. Frankly, Madame, I am for sale.

JEROME
 DEAR JEROME: I am not buying any men today. And neither is any smart American woman. If you get hungry enough you'll go to work like a self-respecting man.

DEAR ABBY: I raised the illegitimate daughter of my sister and she is now 19 and engaged to be married. She wants a white wedding with 200 guests at church, but she is 7 months pregnant. She said they would have married sooner but he was too strait-laced to get married until he got all his debts paid. I am against this big white church wedding and think we should have a few close friends and relatives only. I always thought white weddings stood for purity. Please tell me what we should do? She is very large.

UPSET AUNT
 DEAR UPSET: Your niece

could deliver the baby before her groom delivers the wedding ring. Is he really "strait laced" or does he belong in a jacket by the same name?

DEAR ABBY: Sometime ago you advised a young lady named Marcia to have plastic surgery on her nose. I feel you misguidedly her. More important than a girl's "looks" is what's inside of her. Beautiful women have more problems than plain ones. Let a man love you for what you are . . . not for what you look like. Beauty of the face fades, but inner beauty blooms forever. Why not advise young women to forget their noses and concentrate on developing the qualities within them that build fine character?

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

There's nothing really
 Smells as punk
 As the reprisal
 Of a skunk.

The above thought came to mind after perusing the columns of The Desert Sun and noting where Tabu, pet skunk of Lester Selig, 844 North Mission Road, had wandered away from his owner.

AS ANOTHER of the public services rendered by this column, I wish to sound a solemn warning, based on historical fact.

If you see a skunk meandering around and it looks tame, DON'T jump to the conclusion that it is Tabu.

It could be a stranger, you know, whose name wouldn't be Chanel No. 5.

And then you would be taboo or tabu, whichever way you wish to spell it.

LOOKING OVER the old files of The Desert Sun, I find an incident that bears me out in sounding this warning.

Down on Avenida Olancha there still lives a family which remembers another pet skunk.

It, too, like Tabu, had been renovated so that instead of a pole cat it was just as any other domesticated cat.

LIKE TABU it, too, heard the call of the wild and took off much to the sorrow of the boys in the family.

They searched and advertised with no success.

Then one night one of the boys was in the kitchen building himself a late snack when he heard a scratching on the door.

Looking out he saw what he thought was his missing pet member of the Genus Mephitis. (Skunk to most of us.)

HE HAPPILY let it in, placed a saucer of milk before the animal and addressed it in endearing terms.

Then he reached down to pet it. The Desert Sun that next issue carried the succinct headline: "OOPS! WRONG SKUNK!"

In closing this discourse on an incident which forced a Palm Springs family to take a two-week vacation while the house aired out, would say that the zoologist who named the skunk had it right when he said Mephitis.

Must come from Mephistopheles, other wise the devil. That's what a skunk smells like. The devil.

AM JUST THINKING — What a field day Florida newspapers would have if a fair to middling earthquake struck in California.

The way the western papers have been playing-up the freeze in Florida, they'd sure get even if something happened here.

You really couldn't blame them if one trembling chandelier became a major catastrophe by the time it got into print there.

THEY TELL ME that in a supermarket the other day a wife soothed her husband who was complaining about mounting prices. "Look at it this way, dear," she said. "The more it costs,

The Swami Has An Answer for Everything

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

Friend Mel I have received your message asking if it will be too much trouble to pick up 80 straw sombreros for you. The answer is, no trouble at all. I do not think trouble covers it. Maybe disaster is the word.

However, anything for a friend, friend.

In most countries, you would simply call a hat store and order 80 hats, no? In Mexico you can order one hat. If you order 80 hats you are considered a trouble-maker.

ANYWAY, I HAVE been down in the markets back of the National Palace. Around this quarter EVERYBODY wears straw sombreros. However, where they sell them seems to be top secret.

When I do not need sombreros, Mel, there are stores all around me. But when I want them — I have been in the street of hide sellers. I have been through two entire blocks of hardware stores. I have also discovered an alley with nothing but peppers.

Somewhere in Mexico City is a street of sombreros. To find it is another question.

"WHERE DO YOU buy your sombreros?"

Now if you stopped a man in the States and said "Where do you buy hats?" I imagine it would be a curious thing. This is true in Mexico. After asking around a while, the district got in quite an uproar.

"There goes the gringo who is trying to buy 80 sombreros," they said. It was mighty suspicious.

Two men selling peanuts almost got into a fight trying to direct me.

I ASKED A LADY selling lottery tickets on the corner.

"Certainly there is a hat store around the corner."

"Bless you, Senora!"

"But it is no longer there," she said. "It has changed. Only God knows where, Senor."

That pretty well covered that.

AFTER AWHILE, Mel, I got on a public telephone and called Doug Stockdale over at Western Airlines.

EARL WILSON:

'Abolish Mothers-in-Law'

NEW YORK — That wonderful old actor and comedian Victor Moore, at 81, is launching a national crusade to abolish the term "mother-in-law" and substitute "my wife's mother."

His own mother-in-law . . . oops, excuse, please . . . his wife's mother, Miriam Paige, is about 50, and he calls her "Ma."

"I only got mad at her once and I told her, 'Now you're acting like a mother-in-law,'" he confessed at a Lambs Club luncheon. "To me, 'mother-in-law' is kind of a dirty word."

His wife, Shirley, who's in her early 30s, and "Ma" are getting Victor ready for a birthday spot on Ed Sullivan's TV show Feb. 24.

"You should see them fuss over me," Victor said — anyway, a young wife and young mother-in-law (sorry, Victor) have kept him young.

"Four hours is all I can sleep," said Victor, adding that he goes to bed at 3 A.M. after the Late Show and gets up to watch Dave Garroway.

"I feel more like 3," beamed Victor.

"That's funny," replied this columnist, "I feel more like 80 than 50."

Rock Hudson got a Garry Moore-George Gobel crewcut . . . Frank Sinatra's ex doll June Tolley deserted LA for NY to do TV commercials. "Seventy - four percent of the commercials are still done in NY," says she . . . Denise Darcel bounced into El Morocco after her St. Regis opening wearing a rose in her low-cut bodice. A complete stranger bent low and kissed the rose. "Oh, those impetuous Italians!" giggled Denise.

Freeway Link Necessitates New Access Road

The Board of Supervisors approved an agreement this week with the State Division of Highways whereby the state will allocate $50,000 toward construction of three miles of road to provide access to an agricultural area which would otherwise be closed off by the pending Highway 60-70-99 freeway link between the Indio overhead (over the S. P. railroad) and Thousand Palms.

The road construction provided in the agreement is a two-mile extension of 40th Avenue westerly from Washington and thence north one mile from 40th along a section line to connect to the agricultural area.

Said Road Commissioner A. C. Keith, "40th Avenue would appear to have considerable value as a connecting road between the north and south portions of the valley." J. F. Jorgensen, assistant district engineer, said the state contemplates the freeway improvement will be completed and open to the public on or about August, 1959. Bids are to be requested in April of this year.

AT THE DOOR OF THE Saints and Sinners Room of the La Paz Hotel is Mike Stimac, newly appointed manager of that popular hotel and night spot. Formerly with El Mirador Hotel and Howard Manor, Mike has many friends in the resort area. Currently appearing nightly is the Frankie Ortega trio, providing listening and dancing music.

Four Unsightly Poles Pose Problem for Indio Building

The Board of Supervisors was advised this week by architects for the new Indio branch administrative center, that four high transmission power poles clustered in front of the entrance of the new court building will present a most unsightly collection of poles and guys unless moved. They said the work could be done at a cost to the county of $10,000 and asked the supervisors to study the problem and advise them what will be done.

The problem was turned over to the administrative officer and property management superintendent for investigation and report. According to the architects, Imperial Irrigation District officials have been consulted and all but one pole could be moved if the transmission lines were re-routed over about two miles and the old right of way which cuts diagonally over the site of the new buildings was abandoned.

The unusual, the new, and the different are und-ending in our little sun haven. It's almost as though we had developed the secret of storing the magical energy of the sun. Not that we could scientifically produce the formula, but we can see it work.

Excitingly presenting FASH-
ION'S NEWEST... will be the FAYE - RENEE Fashion Show for the guests of The SMOKE TREE RANCH tomorrow night. It promises to be everything that a fashion show SHOULD be...
fashions to take you 'round the clock, 'round the world, or 'round town!

THERE WILL BE a wealth of color from vivid to pastel and lots of cool cool white. Fabrics will be many and varied... cottons, linens and sheers, all geared for smart summer living.

One cocktail frock which will outshine the stars in the heavens is a chemise of ice blue silk crepe showered with rhinestones. It is newer than new and has been made especially for this show.

YOU WILL RECALL that FAYE RENEE favors the modified chemise and this is an outstanding example. It is fitted at the shoulders and bustline and suggests its waistline with a hidden belt. The neckline is a sabrina and there is just a hint of a sleeve. The bodice is fashioned and a fabric bow locates the waistline.

It is truly a dream dress for dreamy evenings. Think how much fun I am going to have commentating the show... and I will promise you more details of this summer preview later. (191

Palm Desert Seeks Help of Supervisors In Securing Improvement of Highway 111

"The Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce and its committee on roads and highways, the merchants of Palm Desert, and the citizens and taxpayers of Palm Desert are unanimous in condemning Highway 111 in its present state through Palm Desert," Leonard R. Lockhart, chairman of the Chamber's road committee, told the Board of Supervisors this week.

The Chamber of Commerce asked the supervisors to request the state department of public works and the Division of Highways to take action toward immediate improvement of the highway for a distance of approximately two miles east of its intersection with Highway 74.

The committee presented a plat showing their proposal for three lanes of traffic on either side of a landscaped island, with a nine-foot parking area on each side.
The plat also showed a pedestrian lane crossing half way between San Luis Rey and Portola Street.
The supervisors referred the request to county counsel and the road commissioner for suggestion of an "appropriate resolution."

"We should do what we can to help them down there," commented Supervisor George Berkey, who represents the Fourth District in which Palm Desert is located.

REASONS WHY...

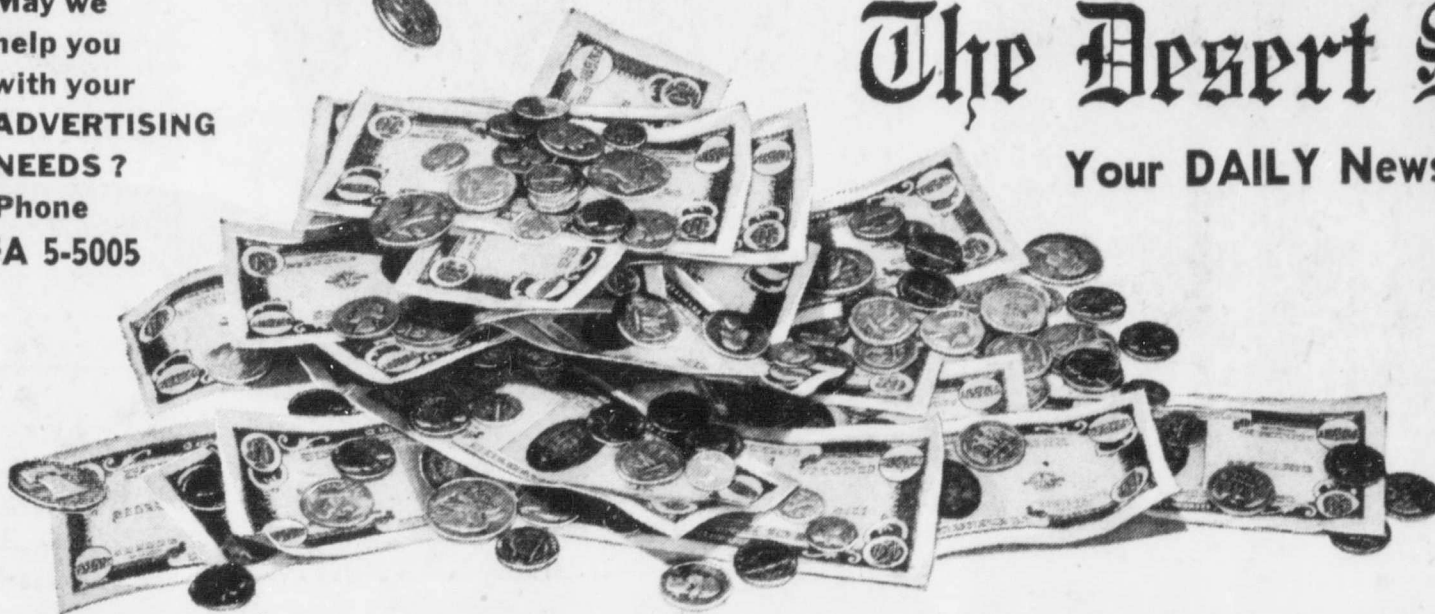

... Goes Farther in Newspapers Than in Any Other Medium

- 1 Newspaper advertising reaches more people. 82% of all people 12 or more years of age read the newspaper daily.
- 2 People like advertising in newspapers, resent it in other media, especially Radio and TV.
- 3 Newspapers deliver more "ready to buy" prospects. Readers are attracted to ads that interest them. Broadcast listeners are attracted by the program, not the product.
- 4 Newspaper advertising gets more action, because people believe what they read.
- 5 Newspaper advertising offers more local selling flexibility, timed and measured to meet selling opportunities, or competition.
- 6 Newspapers give more flexibility in selling copy—both physical (size of impact) and creative (to hold reader interest).
- 7 Newspaper advertising offers better retail merchandising help, as borne out by the fact that retailers spend more in newspapers than in all other media combined.
- 8 Newspaper advertising is a safer and surer investment because it is free of the medium's own competition, is always ready to serve you.
- 9 Newspaper advertising produces more sales per dollar—costs less to make a sale.

One Hundred and Fifty First Nighters Turn Out

First Nighter dinner Tuesday again drew a capacity turnout. One hundred fifty diners gathered in the Biltmore's Fiesta room and overflowed into the Garden Room. A delicious menu of grilled grapefruit, grenadine of beef and blueberry tarts was relished by those who were fortunate enough to have made early reservations which it was necessary to close by noontime Tuesday. Hostesses were Mesdames Richard Bagdasarian, James Schlecht, Robert Backstrom and William Olsen.

This weekly event, sponsored by Palm Springs Playhouse Guild and open to the public, is attracting increasing attention. Tuesday's First Nighter preceded the opening of "Father of the Bride," by Caroline Francke, at Palm Springs Playhouse.

Mrs. John F. Luccarelli, Guild president, briefly addressed the diners and introduced Mayor and Mrs. Percy Scurrah of Victoria, British Columbia, who are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Honey of the village. Mrs. Luccarelli also introduced lovely Julia Meade who will star in next week's "Dream Girl." Julia told of her difficulty in getting out of storm-ridden New York, finally arriving in Palm Springs at 4 o'clock in the morning; the last lap of her journey by car.

John Bryant, playing opposite Miss Meade next week, also spoke briefly as did Stephen Bekassy, seen last week, and his wife, Hannah Zinka. Producers Michael and Marrian Ferrall acknowledged introductions, with them was Mrs. Harold Lloyd, Sr.

Possibly the largest party was that of Commissioner and Mrs. William Friedman whose guests included Mesdames Jean Bloom, Henry Lasner, Harry Weinreich, Jack Friedman, Selma Saver, Samuel Friedberg, Sydney Marks and the I. Beckers, Joseph Fahns, Jack Fields, Louis Rosens, Erwin Halperins and Phil Jacobs.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rosin and daughter Buzie were with guests Mr. and Mrs. Herman Platt, the Zachary Pitts, Mrs. Bea Marx and Mr. Donald Marx. Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. Wood, Rancho Mirage, guested the Noel Groshans and Mr. and Mrs. Skinner of Lodi; also the Bert Cyporans and Mr. and Mrs. Walsh. At Mrs. Kathleen Naef's table were Mesdames Marjorie Bowers, Jo Renzi, James A. Slone, Frank Hilson, John Gallorani, Betty Ekins and Mrs. Crosswaite.

Also in the group were Mrs. W. F. Schlotman, Mrs. Gladys Stroud, Mrs. John Hamrick and the Albert F. Welles, the James Schlechts, Co. Thomtons, Charles Valentinos, Julian Skiffs, Mesdames Henry Passow, Allen B. Lockhart, Alvin H. Carpenters, Mrs. Earl Cordray, Mrs. Sandra O'Brien with Mr. John Bonitz, Mesdames Florence Larned, Helen Lloyd and the Norman Levinsons.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry Dollard and Mr. and Mrs. S. Earl Henderson were present as were Mrs. Stephen Swanson of Sacramento, the Harold Reichels of Chehalis, Washington, and the J. Crawford of Portland. Mrs. John G. Hill of Palm Desert was with the Robert Hensons and Mrs. M. Shuman. Mrs. Florence Jordan and Mrs. Marjorie Lehbarger of Beverly Hills also were present as were the Sam Janises, Lee Haversens, Mrs. Donald Gilmore and Mr.

Grant with Mrs. Howard Dalton, Mrs. Florence Magill and the Roy R. Cumminses.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Dreyfus was there as was Mrs. Matt Dragicevich, Miss Joyce Chapman with Mrs. Louise Head, the Lou Blackfields, Ray Munsons, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Bamberger, the Maury Solts and Mrs. Lucille Tidwell with the Richard Bagdasarians, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Backstrom, Mrs. D. Takvorian, Mrs. Lillian Arakelian, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Alexander and Miss Dorothy McCallion of Erie, Pennsylvania.

New Play Comprises Gay Comedy

A brilliant audience greeted the opening of Palm Springs Playhouse presentation of "Father of the Bride" Tuesday. The fine cast, headed by Max Mellinger as the harassed father, gave a genuinely warm interpretation of this popular Caroline Francke comedy which is timeless in its theme and universal in its appeal.

The audience was wholeheartedly with the father, Stanley Banks, from his first appearance on stage to his heart touching exit with his daughter, played with nice understanding by Lynn Bailey.

Produced and directed by Michael Ferrall and sponsored by the Palm Springs Playhouse Guild, the Playhouse has a winner this week and the first night audience was generous in its applause throughout the play, which has to do with the pre-nuptial preparations of daughter's coming marriage. There undoubtedly was not a single person in the audience who has not experienced some of the situations the Banks family went through, and viewed objectively, they can take a humorous turn, though not without sympathy.

Max Mellinger gave an outstanding performance and received exit applause, time and time again. Phyllis Flax as the mother was splendid and her costume in the final act drew exclamations from the audience. Lynn Bailey was a thoroughly understandable bride and John Bonitz as her fiancé his usual competent self. This is Lynn's and John's fourth, romantic appearance together on the Playhouse stage.

Lorraine Bendix carried her comedy role completely relaxed and with an assurance that her audience appreciated. Duke Lloyd (Harold Jr.), a carbon copy of his father in appearance, handled his role with an inherited capability. Lovely blonde Gail Allen, daughter of Irene Hervey, was delightful as the fiancée of Ben Banks, played by Lloyd. Butch Cavell as the youngest member of the family played his role with thoroughly likeable exasperation, turning out to be a finished young actor.

Others in the cast were Frank Leslie, Jean Patane, George Womack, Charles Palmer, George Byrne, Matt Pello, Robert St. George and Ricky Burnham.

Panhellenic Luncheon at Tennis Club

Serving as placecards at the Panhellenic luncheon held at the Tennis Club in Palm Springs were the new Coachella Valley Panhellenic directories. Listed therein are the names and national social sorority affiliations of the 108 members, who are permanent or winter residents of this area.

These members are affiliated with chapters of 18 different sororities representing campuses from coast to coast. Directories will be available at succeeding meetings, or may be had by phoning Mrs. Edward C. Ruge at Firestone 6-6294.

Speaker at the luncheon was Mrs. Randall C. Henderson, noted sculptress member, who modeled the bronze plaque memorializing Death Valley Scotty. Mrs. Henderson gave a graphic account of the dedication when the plaque was placed at Scotty's grave on a knoll back of his famous castle. Each year, over the Armistice Day weekend, thousands gather to participate in the colorful events sponsored by the 49-ers, a group of artists, authors, and newspaper men who work together to keep Death Valley National Monument an unspoiled and inspirational segment of living history of the West. It was further explained that anyone may attend the encampment.

Arrangements for the luncheon were made by Mrs. Stanley O. Chambers and Mrs. Robert Schlesinger.

The March luncheon meeting will be held at the Racquet Club on Thursday, the 13th, at 12:30 p.m. Hostesses for this affair are: Mrs. Edward Staples, Mrs. Harry A. McColly, and Mrs. Harry J. Breeding. A brief history of Palm Canyon with a look to its future will be given by Mrs. Len D. Owens. During the luncheon an informal showing of fashions from Gladys's Racquet Club Shop is planned.

Banquet to Fete Anniversary of Redlands Bowl

Hundreds of music-lovers from all over the Southland will gather at Arrowhead Springs Hotel, San Bernardino, for a gala "black tie" banquet Friday, March 21, at 7:30 p.m. in honor of the 35th anniversary of the founding of Redlands Bowl, where an estimated 1,383,200 persons have heard fine music since 1923.

John Raitt, Broadway and film baritone star, and several surprise guests will appear at the Arrowhead Springs banquet to pay tribute in song to Mrs. George Emmett Mullen, who founded Redlands Bowl and who is still its active head.

Proceeds from the dinner will be used to help the establishment of a permanent Redlands Bowl Festival Orchestra, which will perform at 13 of the 19 concerts, ballets, and operas scheduled for this summer's season, with Harry Farberman as musical director.

Tickets for the banquet may be obtained from Mrs. Mullen, from Mrs. Lloyd Hulbert (Leola Turner), ticket chairman; from Joseph T. Ciano, chairman of the board, either at his home in Redlands or at his office in San Bernardino; or from Charles D. Perlee, Redlands Bowl co-ordinator.

All Yearlings Attend First Birthday Party

Little Miss Ann Del Pospesil, daughter of the Paul Pospesils, celebrated her very first birthday by having a party at which all the guests were one year old too.

Everything was pink and white as Ann hosted her first birthday party at the family home at 275 Ridge Road on Sunday afternoon. There were many gift packages to be opened and explored and everyone had a wonderful time.

Invited guests included Robin and Terri Young of Thermal, and Jeanie Martin, Jeffrey Thompson, Geri Finerman, Timmy and Terry Bryan and Michael O'Shea, all of Palm Springs.

To Show Paintings

Mrs. Roy Randolph has sent out invitations for a showing of her water color paintings on March 2. The exhibit will be in the Randolph home at 1657 Riverside Drive, South, and friends invited to attend will have cocktails with the Randolphs.

Villager Mickey Finn, who has just completed a picture with Jerry Lewis, is now associate director of a one hour radio show over KGIL in Los Angeles known as "Teen and Twenty Time."

Between picture commitments and his radio show he is still busy with his youth counseling and family relations work.

Graysons Are Hosts at Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Grayson of Tacoma, Washington and Lake Tahoe, and winter residents at Blue skies Trailer Park, entertained at a dinner party at Romanoffs on The Rocks Tuesday evening.

Their honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davenport of Newport Beach, who recently purchased the Sunny Dunes Ranch near Indio, and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Osborne of Lake Tahoe. Osborne is the architect who designed the new shopping center which is to be located near La Quinta, where he and Grayson plan on building in the near future.

United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK — The man who didn't know how to quit finally has.

Gaunt, dark-haired Ed Furgol, the battler with one good arm, for 13 years made a gallant run over the fairways of the world. And the man they called "Wingy" proved his class and his courage in 1954 by winning the U. S. Open golf championship.

But at last the one good arm has gone bad, too.

So, nearing 41 and discouraged with his play, Ed has left the pro golf tour. He's looking for a club job and everybody in the game hopes he gets the good one he deserves.

"I'M LIKE A PITCHER who has lost his speed," Ed explains disconsolately. "In order to compensate for my left arm, I have to whip the club through fast. I've lost some of my speed, so my drives are 25 yards shorter than they used to be and I can't get under my irons the way I should."

A year ago, Furgol suffered a torn triceps muscle in his right arm. Then, to complicate matters, he developed calcium deposits in his right elbow.

It was the arm which always had done the work of two.

For when Ed was a 12-year-old, he fell in the school playground at his native Utica, N.Y., and shattered the left elbow. Repeated operations failed to help and the arm became rigid and withered. Ed refused to sit on the sidelines. He played all the usual schoolboy sports, including football and baseball, and as a caddy early learned a love of golf and a desire to play it with the best of them.

AS AN AMATEUR, he went to Detroit and won medalist honors in the National Public Links championship and stayed there to work in an automobile factory.

As an amateur, he won 25 of the 33 events he entered and then in 1946 decided to take a crack at the pro tour. It wasn't easy. Sitting in the clubhouse just before the 1954 Open started at Baltusrol, Ed was asked who he picked to win it. Modesty usually dictates the naming of Ben Hogan, Sam Snead or some such.

"I like my own chances," Ed said quietly. "After that, it's wide open."

THAT TOURNAMENT is, at least, one golden memory he has to take with him.

Because a couple of days later he stood on the final tee needing a par five to win and parlayed the withered arm and fighting heart into victory. He hooked his drive into the wood, gambled by slicing the ball up an adjacent, unused fairway, chipped to the apron and ran it down in two to beat Gene Littler by one shot.

The years of superhuman effort have caught up to Ed at last, however. But those in golf who hand the best club job in the land, for here is a man who would be an inspiration for any community.

Slate Second Net Clinic Saturday

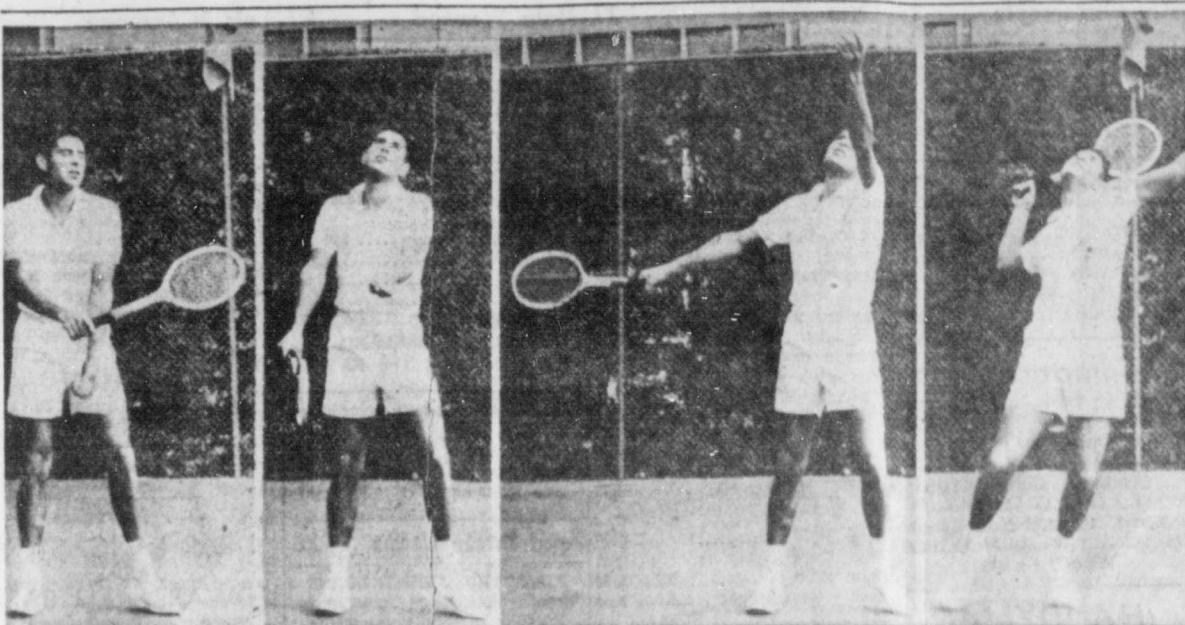

Second tennis clinic for Palm Springs area youngsters between the ages of 9 and 14 is scheduled for this Saturday morning at Tamarisk Park courts.

Instruction is by Dave Gilliam, long time tennis pro at the Racquet Club and the classes are under the sponsorship of The Desert Sun.

Last week at the first session 38 registered for the clinics which will continue through the school year.

They are scheduled for each Saturday morning from 9 to 11 o'clock.

CAMERA CATCHES world pro net champion Pancho Gonzales as he starts his powerful serve, considered the deadliest in the world. Pancho, on the short end of a world net tour with Lew Hoad, faces his persistent Australian challenger at Palm Springs Tennis Club on March 1. Tennis Club Pro Ed Myerson, sizing up the matches so far, has declared that Hoad's ability to solve Pancho's bullet-like serve has contributed heavily to his 14 to 7 match lead (as of Tuesday night) over the champ.

Hoad, Gonzales Renew Duel at Tennis Club Next Week

Net Pros Play Here on Mar. 1

The burning question of the moment in the sports world is: Can Australia tennis ace Lew Hoad maintain his mastery over Pancho Gonzales and dethrone the pro net king?

The provocative question will be partially answered on March 1 at Palm Springs Tennis Club when Gonzales squares off against Hoad under the arcs in the 11th U.S. match of their 110-match global tour. Tony Trabert and Pancho Segura will blast off the proceedings at 8:30 p.m. with their preliminary skirmish.

HOAD, WHO DID a great job of reorganizing his game during a winter of preparation, has confounded Gonzales. In amazing fashion, in fact, he had handed Pancho competition the likes of which the big and burly net champ has not encountered since he took up the sport.

Scoffers who felt Hoad would never be able to really challenge Pancho are beginning to sing a different tune. The 14-7 lead Hoad has built up on their world tour so far can't be denied. It has made the Aussie ace a favorite in many net circles to capture the world professional tennis championship which Gonzales has held since it was vacated by Jack Kramer, now the promoter of the competition.

TENNIS CLUB PRO Ed Myerson, who arranged the only Palm Springs-desert area match of the tennis giants with Kramer, has followed their matches with great interest.

"Gonzales' planned technique of overpowering Hoad simply hasn't worked," is the way Myerson sizes it up after watching the pair's net feud on television. "Hoad has learned to solve Gonzales' serve and has him worried. Besides, he's coming to the net more often and beating Gonzales to the punch. That's something no player has been able to do to Gonzales since he succeeded Kramer in 1953."

Tickets for the Gonzales-Hoad match are now on sale at the Tennis Club. Box seats are $5.00 plus tax and general admissions are $3.00 plus tax.

LAW OF THE JUNGLE PREVAILS IN PRO NET RANKS BELIEVES GONZALES

By SCOTT BAILLIE
United Press Sports Writer

It's the law of the jungle in professional tennis, according to Pancho Gonzales who will renew his duel with Lew Hoad at the Tennis Club here a week from Saturday.

Gonzales was talking about Tony Trabert who was shocked when he began playing for money. Gonzales mopped up the erstwhile amateur king in 1956.

"I think I beat Trabert by something like 75 matches to 27 in our series," declared the swarthy cannon ball server who talks up a lot more than he used to. "Trabert was just out of amateur ranks and let things bother him on that tour."

For instance?

"WELL, HE WOULD throw the next point if he thought I had gotten a bad call. Naturally, I didn't mull any points on purpose and at first he couldn't understand why. But later he found it was murder to give an opponent a point in our kind of game. Bad

HOAD EXTENDS LEAD OVER GONZALES IN SERIES TO 15 TO 7

PHILADELPHIA — Lew Hoad, the assiduous Aussie, continued to amaze the professional tennis world by defeating Pancho Gonzales in the 15th match of their 100-game cross-country series.

For Hoad, it was his 15th win in the 22nd match of their 100-game series.

Gonzales shrugged and his brown eyes twinkled. "Then one night I left the court after a match with out shaking hands. Trabert told me afterward it was not gentlemanly. I said, 'Listen, Tony, the only thing that this brand of tennis lacks is bodily contact.'"

Now Gonzales is embarked on his fourth tennis tour, and seems unworried that Lew Hoad enjoys a 14-7 lead over him. Pancho's first trip was in 1953 when he won a round robin title. In 1956 came Trabert and last year he walloped Ken Rosewall, 51-27.

Although Gonzales recently made a vain attempt to break out of his pact with Jack Kramer, who masterminds the tours, he agreed he isn't going broke.

"I grossed about $75,000 last year and figure to be on the same on this trip," the 29-year-old bomber said.

BUT ON PAPER, at least, Hoad has Pancho to the ropes. But Gonzales only smiled again when asked if he thought he would overtake the younger man.

"I think I can beat any player going," Pancho said. "And if they call that cocky, it's okay with me, because cockiness is just a part of being self-confident."

And in tennis—the pro version—you need all you can get, Gonzales said.

"You have to feel you're the best so you can get back on the tour the next year and make more money," he asserted.

Venturi Favored As Play Opens In Houston Open

HOUSTON, Tex. — Goldom's top money tournament of the winter circuit, the $30,000 Houston Invitational Classic, opens today with long-ball hitters given the edge over the 7,200-yard Memorial Park course.

San Francisco's Ken Venturi, only double winner on the winter tour thus far was favored in the four-day tourney.

The 134 entrants included Jimmy Demaret, Jackie Burke, 1957 Houston champion Arnold Palmer, Doug Ford, Dow Finsterwald, George Bayer, Mike Souchak and Robert De Vicenzo, the latter from Mexico City.

Palmer led a group of six former winners of the Houston tourney, including Johnny Palmer, Marty Furgol, Burke, Souchak, and Ted Kroll.

However, the "unknowns" included Johnny McMullin, 22-year-old Californian who took top honors Tuesday in a final qualifying round with a 69.

ANTI-HORSE RACE INITIATIVE PUT ON NOVEMBER BALLOT

SACRAMENTO — The attorney general's office Wednesday gave a formal title and summary to an initiative proposal to outlaw horse race wagering in California.

If the sponsors of the measure get 322,429 signatures of qualified voters, the initiative will appear on the November election ballot.

The attorney general's office titled the measure "Horse Race Wagering."

274 Night Games Scheduled by NL

CINCINNATI — After one false start, the National League announced its official 1958 schedule today, including Los Angeles and San Francisco for the first time and a record total of 274 night games.

Los Angeles opens the season at San Francisco on April 15 and after a three-game series, the Giants travel south to Los Angeles for another three-game series with the Dodgers beginning April 18.

Jones Wants to Step Up After Beating Gavilan

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Middleweight Ralph Tiger Jones asked today for a match with any of the 160-pound contenders because of his comeback victory over Kid Gavilan Wednesday night in the first fight ever televised from a hotel.

Unmindful of the plush surroundings of the Club Siam in the brand new Carillon Hotel, Jones of St. Albans, N.Y., shuffled forward in every round and won an avenging split decision over the Cuban who broke his own losing streak at four straight.

Gavilan, former welterweight champion, was favored at 8-5 in Wednesday's 10-rounder.

But, fighting there in the Siam Club—where the carpets seemed mattress soft and the life-sized statues of Siamese dancing girls stood unblinking during the fray—Jones' persistent hooking attack gained the verdict. There were no knockdowns.

TEVIS PLAYS BIG PART IN DESERT AREA POLO

WILLIAM S. TEVIS, known as "Mr. Polo," plans to make the new field he laid out at Eldorado Country Club the scene of international matches.

Mr. Polo Plans to Make Eldorado U. S. Center for Sport

They call William S. (Willie) Tevis, owner of the spectacular 4,500-acre Lake Ranch in Marin County, "Mr. Polo," and "The Iron Man of California," for a good reason.

He has been swinging mallets and winning trophies from the backs of spirited horses, for fifty years. For the past several years he has given time and money to the promotion of young players so that polo, his beloved sport, will not die out.

HIS MOST RECENT work was the building of the new polo field at Eldorado Country Club in the Palm Springs area where, on March 2, four teams will meet in a tournament, the proceeds of which will benefit the Palm Springs United Fund Drive.

He plans to make the Eldorado Field the International polo playground of the nation.

Along with polo at Eldorado, he is an investor in the Eldorado Country Club.

TEVIS PILOTS his own Bonanza aircraft to polo matches in the desert area each winter season. He is rated as one of the seven top horsemen of the world and once started an audience at a Madison Square Garden New York, by riding (in white tie and tails) a hitherto undurable outlaw bronc.

At the age of 14 he took brush jumps bare-back on an unbridled horse. Today, at the age of 64, he still plays on his own Lake Ranch Polo Field, where he intersperses the regulation game with sessions of "Cholla," a roping game developed several years ago at Camelback Inn, Arizona. He is still winning matches at Golden Gate Park, and the Menlo Circus Club and in the Palm Springs area.

Hole-in-One Golf Tourney Starts At Palm Desert

First annual Hole-in-One golf tournament of Palm Desert Junior Chamber of Commerce is scheduled to get under way, tomorrow at Indian Wells Country Club. The event will be climaxed Sunday.

Many valuable prizes are offered to the winners.

Ken Fristed, president of the sponsoring organization, said that enthusiasm over the tournament is high and that a large number of entries have been received.

Members of the Palm Desert Jaycee have been taking lessons at Indian Wells for some time, preparing for the tournament.

Joe Mazzulla is chairman of the committee which is in charge of the event, assisted by Jerry Murphy.

White Sox Round Up Strong Staff For Mound Duty

By UNITED PRESS

The Chicago White Sox today completed the signing of the $125,000 "big four" pitching staff they hope can win the American League pennant in '58.

Manager Al Lopez' front-line pitching was rounded out when Dick Donovan, 6-foot, 3-inch, 205-pound right-hander, agreed to terms for an estimated $28,000.

Donovan, who is scheduled to leave his Quincy, Mass., home today, is expected to join with Billy Pierce, Early Wynn and Bob Keegan to give the White Sox four starting pitchers the equal of any rival quartet in the league. Pierce, Wynn and Keegan signed previously for a total of about $97,000.

The New York Yankees announced that they have signed third-string catcher Darrell Johnson but that the "big one"—Mickey Mantle—got away. Mantle was supposed to meet with Lee MacPhail, Yankee director of personnel, at St. Petersburg, Fla., Wednesday, but never put in an appearance.

The big news at Lakeland, Fla., Wednesday, was that Harvey Knerr had finally agreed to the clubs original terms in other words a cut.

The sport of curling, increasingly popular in the United States, was introduced to Canada nearly 200 years ago by Scottish troops stationed in Quebec.

Arcaro Misses In Try for 4,000

ARCADIA — Eddie Arcaro, famed stakes riding champion, had three chances today to ride the 4,000 winner of his long and colorful career.

The famous jockey, winner of 3,999 races in 27 years as a jockey, missed on three mounts Wednesday—his 42nd birthday. A fourth horse—the favorite—was scratched.

Victory No. 4,000 would put Arcaro in a class with two other riders who have passed that mark—Sir Gordon Richards of England, who rode 4,840 winners in his career, and Johnny Longden, the champion, with 5,092 victories.

While it was a disappointing day for Arcaro Wednesday it was fine for mud-loving Carrier X.

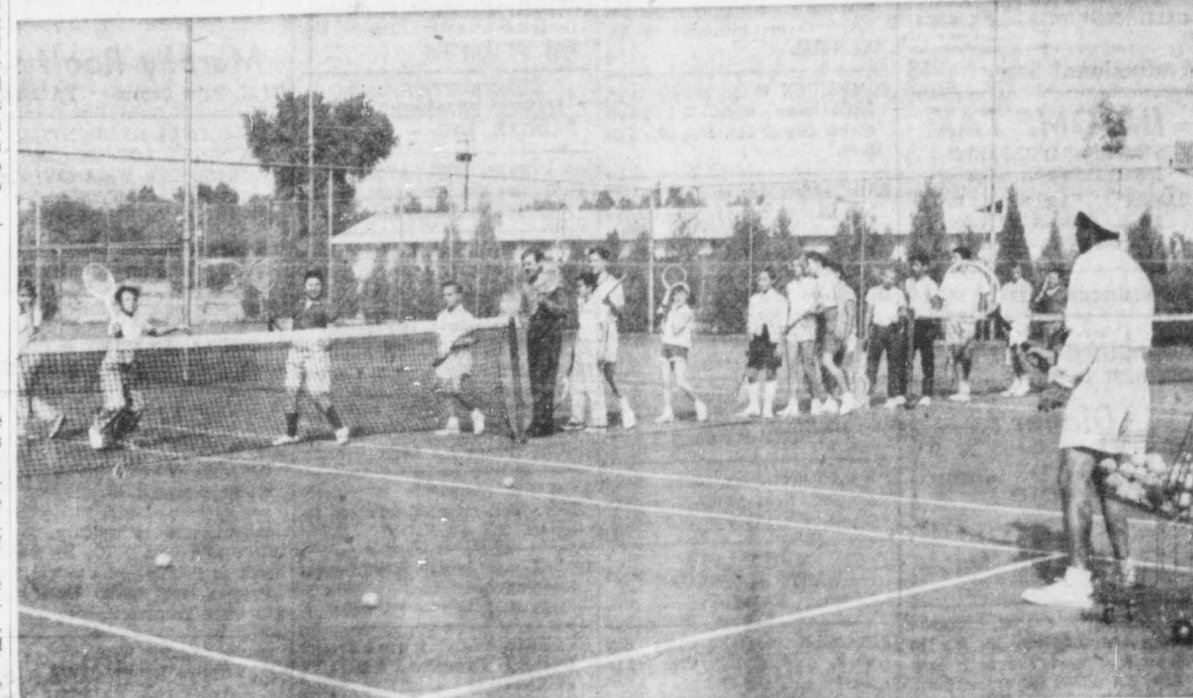

The gelded son of Count Fleet carried a light 108 pounds from 18 lengths off the pace to capture the featured $25,000-added San Felipe Handicap.

Time for mile and sixteenth event was 1:45 3-5. Carrier X paid $17.20, 8.00 and 4.80.

Stretch-running Silky Sullivan was declared from the race by trainer Reggie Cornell, who said he did not want to risk the hard-running horse on a track after a heavy rainstorm.

Moore Favored 2-1 Over Nava Tonight

LOS ANGELES — Davey Moore, No. 3 ranking featherweight, is a 2-1 favorite to whip switch-hitting Fill Nava of Mexico City tonight in a 10-round bout at Olympic Auditorium.

SECOND SESSION of the Tennis Clinic taught by Dave Gilliam, pro at the Racquet Club for 12 years, will be held Saturday morning starting at 9 o'clock at Tamarisk Park. Thirty-eight youngsters between the ages of 9 and 14 registered for the classes at the first session last Saturday. Above, Gilliam conduct his initial class. Resignations Reduce Seven-Man Air Pollution Control Group to Three

Three resignations from members of the county air pollution advisory committee were accepted by the Board of Supervisors sitting this week as the county air pollution control board, bringing the resignations to four out of the seven-member committee.

Resignations received were from Dr. John Middleton, chairman of the committee, Thelma Goodspeed and Antoinette Fleschner. Faith Deuprey had previously resigned.

DR. MIDDLETON said the district is now in operation with an air pollution control engineer, a proposed program, and rules and regulations drawn up for consideration, and he believes his services no longer needed.

Mrs. Goodspeed's resignation followed that of Dr. Middleton. She said her term expired Feb. 1 and she had stayed on pending completion of the review of proposed rules and regulations, requested by the supervisors, but that with the reduced committee it is difficult to get a quorum.

SHE SAID THE rules and regulations have been previously studied by the committee, and the review is better than half way completed with only a few minor changes suggested.

"I believe that Deputy County Counsel Justin McCarthy with the assistance of Air Pollution Control Engineer Clifton J. Seymour can finish the work on the rules and regulations without further committee review," said Mrs. Goodspeed.

Thousand Palms

THOUSAND PALMS—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Easton of Pico, were callers at The Desert Moon Sunday. Mrs. Emily Plehn and friend, Miss Violet Marshall, of Berkeley, are guests at the Desert Moon. Mrs. Plehn has been here before and is planning to stay for six weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Remer, from Newton, Kans., were callers on the Gerhard Enns Tuesday, on the way to Arizona, and Texas.

In the South Dakota Badlands fossil bird eggs have been found so perfectly petrified that scientists can measure the shell thickness, and tell the yolk from the white.

"TO APPOINT NEW members to replace Dr. Middleton and Mrs. Deuprey would in my opinion be of little help because it would take new members too long to catch up with the work we have done, and I'm sure we would all like to see the rules and regulations completed and ready for public hearings as soon as possible. Much work still remains to be done by county counsel, and further delay by a partially new committee would hamper rather than help him."

Said Mrs. Fleschner, "I feel I can be more effective as a private citizen. The committee has reached a stage where further progress toward an effective clean air program will not really be given much impetus by this committee under the present set-up."

Industrial Realtors to Tour Desert Hot Springs Area

DESERT HOT SPRINGS—Two busloads of industrial realtors will roll into Desert Hot Springs Friday, March 7, to tour the area for a look at possible sites for light manufacturing plants.

The visitors, members of the Society of Industrial Realtors, are on a two-day tour of Riverside County, arranged by the County Board of Trade.

Local real estate men, developers and civic leaders will guide the tour here following breakfast Friday morning.

The South Equatorial Current carries six million tons of water northwest across the Equator each second. The volume is replaced by cold North Atlantic water flowing south at great depths.

All Under 80 May Register

Entire Families to age 80 are now eligible to register under a plan of funeral insurance. Costs only a few cents a day. In time of need, regardless of how little has been paid, the plan pays the funeral bill. For example, a complete funeral was paid for recently when only $4.58 had been paid. Issued by an admitted legal reserve insurer. Good at any funeral director in the United States. For free information write Funeral Plan, P. O. Box 359, Palm Springs, or telephone FA 8-3409.—Adv.

Check Passer Adds Insult to Injury--Takes IOU

BUTTE, Mont. (AP) — Authorities today were investigating a man accused of taking credit for a worthless check.

A victimized merchant told police the suspect made a $9 purchase and offered a $250 check in payment. The merchant didn't have that much cash on hand, so the checkpasser took what he had plus an IOU for the balance.
